PRICE THREE CENTS

MOTHER GIVEN
MEDAL AND OAK
LEAF CLUSTER
FOR LOST SON

The Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster "for executing ten separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Europe" was presented to Mrs. Mary Guise, 153 York street, Friday evening, for her son, Staff Sergeant Harmon E. Guise, 28, U. S. Air Forces, "missing in action" since December 16. The presentation was made at Mrs. Guise's home.

Captain J. E. Gustin and Lt. T. J. Hubert, of the Middletown Air Depot, made the award to Mrs. Guise, to keep until her son's return "on behalf of President Roosevelt, General Arnold and the commandant of the Middletown Air Depot."

The Air Medal was awarded Sergeant Guise December 6 and the Oak Leaf Cluster was awarded December 23 by order of Group Commander James L. Travis.

The citation reads as follows: "For exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in ten separate bomber combat missions over enemy-occupied continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this man upon those occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the U. S."

The Air Medal was given upon the completion of five missions and was presented to Sergeant Guise along with 50 other members of the Eighth Air Force at a service in England. The Oak Leaf Cluster was given for the additional five missions made prior to his being listed as "missing in action."

Wife Is a WAC
Cpl. Tech. Ida A. (Yohe) Guise, Gettysburg, wife of Sergeant Guise and a member of the WAC detachment at Camp Stewart, Georgia, was present, on furlough, for the award Friday evening. The award was made before a small group of relatives and intimate friends.

Sergeant Guise is an active member and a former deacon of Bender's Lutheran church which was represented at the ceremony by an elder, Howard Guise, and the pastor, the Rev. Henry W. Sternat. The Ira E. Lady post of the American Legion, Biglerville, was represented by Commander Paul O. Diehl.

Sergeant Guise served with the Eighth Bomber command and was a waist gunner in a Flying Fortress. He received his training at Keesler Field, Mississippi; Lowry Field, Colorado; Tyndall, Florida, where he was made a staff sergeant; Blythe, California; Dyersburg, Tennessee, where he was assigned to his crew; Grand Island, Nebraska and Holton, Maine. He went to England in September 1943.

After flying at least 10 successful missions, Sergeant Guise's plane was last seen at 2 p. m. December 16 over the western Netherlands while returning from a bombing mission over northwestern Germany.

A brother of Sergeant Guise, Tech. Sgt. Lawrence W. Guise, Ordnance, U. S. Army, is stationed in England. He is a former member of Company E, National Guard, of Gettysburg. His wife, Mrs. Margaret (Miller) Guise, Gettysburg, was present for the presentation.

After attending the Adams county public schools, Sgt. Harmon Guise was employed at the Gettysburg furniture factories until 1942 when he joined the air force. He was married in 1939. With his wife, Corporal Guise resided in Cash-town.

The "Red" Cross

"It is significant that the Red Cross appeal comes in the Lenten season. It is right that we should make sacrifices during Lent not for the sake of the sacrifice alone but that in sacrificing we may serve and give of ourselves that the welfare of others might be improved. In giving of our time or talents or material substance for our fellowmen we are giving unto God.

"The Red Cross asks that it may give. There is no greater motive in asking. There is no greater reason for giving. In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me" (Matthew 25:40).

"We remember another Cross long ago stained red with the blood of sacrifice. To sacrifice some of our great abundance whether it be of our material wealth, our God-given abilities or of our life's blood is to live in the spirit of the Cross."

Rev. Robert M. Hunt,
Pastor Gettysburg
Presbyterian Church.

Everyone is invited.

4-H WORKERS
PREPARE FOR
1944 PROGRAM

Adams county 4-H club members and local leaders this week started plans for the coming year in recognition of national 4-H club Mobilization week ending Sunday.

With most club members expecting to take a greater part in the work of her home during the coming summer because of the greater need for labor, Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension advisor, today urged that next summer's club programs be designed about the needs of the local communities and homes.

The clubs will reorganize in May. Last year the 91 members of the nine clubs in the county in addition to their various club projects collected 2,160 pounds of paper, 555 pounds of rubber, 7,470 pounds of metal, 100 pounds of silk hose and 138 pounds of fat. Seventy-seven of the club girls assisted with the family gardens and 57 helped with the care of the family poultry flock.

Sixty-nine aided with family canning and prepared 6,975 quarts of fruits and vegetables for winter use. Twenty-four of the older club members did individual canning of 975 quarts of canned foods.

High Completion Rate
Other activities included knitting, sewing, taking first aid courses, and assisting other farms in Adams county in harvesting cherries, peaches, tomatoes and apples. Fifty-one purchased war bonds valued at $566.25. Many of the girls worked and spent the money they earned for buying school clothes, dental repairs and in one instance, a pair of glasses.

A number of clubs. Round Top, New Chester, Hunterstown and Fairfield with a total of 42 members engaged in 4-H homemakers' assistance projects which consisted of each member accepting some home duty for a one-month period to learn all about that form of work. Round Top with eight member had 100 per cent completions. Thirty-six other members also completed all of their work.

Formed New Clubs
New 4-H clubs organized with 18 members in Idaville and Oak Grove. Both clubs selected 4-H girl at home projects which 14 members completed. One hundred and twelve buttons were sewed on garments and 14 garments were constructed in the work. Five of the girls made other dresses outside their required work and 336 garments were pressed and 14 repaired and renovated by members.

The only 4-H breakfast club in the county was at Good Hope where 13 members enrolled and 10 completed their work. The members prepared 90 dishes suitable for a breakfast. Each was responsible for at least three meals planned and each prepared and served 20 breakfasts. The club was responsible for 450 meals and assisted with 2700 meals.

Two of the older clubs, Mt. Pleasant and Brushtown, with a total enrollment of 18 took up outdoor cookery work. Each club had 100 per cent completions. All of the cooking by the clubs was done outdoors and the project proved so popular a number of other clubs are planning to take up the project this year, Miss Adams said.

RELIEF LOAD STEADY

Direct relief payments to needy residents of Adams county during the week ending Friday showed an increase of $190 over those of the previous week. Payments for the week were $362.70 which was $61 more than for the comparable week last year, according to an announcement today by State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner.

APPEAL IS LOST

Walter Kable Flanagan, Bethesda, Maryland, has been continued in 1A by the area Board of Appeals, it was announced today by the New Oxford board. The appeal was taken by the employer.

LEREW WILL FILED

The will of Cornelius B. Lerew, late of Biglerville, has been entered at the court house. The widow, Harriet J. Lerew, Biglerville, is executrix of the $16,500 estate.

PRE-INDUCTION
DATA GIVEN TO COUNTIANS HERE

Practical instructions and suggestions for men about to enter the armed forces were given Friday evening at the court house by representatives of the Army, the Red Cross, Selective Service and the American Legion during the first "experimental" pre-induction session for countians.

"You won't have a lot to worry about after you arrive at the reception center but there are a number of matters you should take care of before that time," Capt. Harold Pegg, attached to the New Cumberland reception center, told the audience of accepted registrants, their wives and children.

"Uncle Sam provides for almost all of a service man's needs so don't burden yourselves with a lot of excess baggage that will just have to be sent home," the Army officer advised as he assured the men that the staff at the reception center are there to help the new inductees in every way possible.

"Disregard Rumors"
Ralph Strader, who as field representative for the Red Cross in this area deals daily with the problems of service men and their families, urged the men to follow instructions, give a complete and accurate report on themselves in the initial interview at the reception center and disregard disturbing rumors.

The men who are about to don uniforms were urged to make a will, give a general power of attorney to their wives or other persons who can be trusted, make provision for the interval between the initial and second allotment checks to their families and prepare necessary written proof of facts required for the allotment application.

Captain Pegg, Mr. Strader and Judge W. C. Sheely, who presided at the meeting, impressed the men with the provisions that have been made to safeguard their interests and families. Strader told them: "Uncle Sam has made provision to meet every possible contingency that could arise for any soldier or sailor."

Urged Service Insurance
Captain Pegg and Lt. H. V. Girard of the ROTC staff at Gettysburg college urged the men to take the $10,000 limit in National Service Life insurance with the premiums, ranging from $6 to $8 per month, to be deducted from the men's pay. The insurance is convertible and may be continued after leaving service, it was explained.

Birth certificates of children and marriage licenses (preferably certified copies of the originals) should be taken along to the reception center for use on the allotment application. The means of handling allotments for wives, children or parents to be paid out of deductions from the men's pay with a sum added by the government were described. Family emergencies can be provided for, the men were assured.

Emergency Provisions
Details of the provisions for filing allotment claims and for securing pre-natal and hospital care for wives of service men were given. (Please Turn to Page 2)

FEW APPEAR TO DRAW POSITION

Only three candidates were present Friday at the office of the county election board in the court house when drawings were made for positions on the ballot for the primaries in April.

In most instances position had little to do with the final result with no contests listed for most posts. Esther M. Hayberger drew first place on the ballot over Evelyn Slope Neely. The two are contesting for Republican vice chairman.

A contest is also scheduled for Republican committeeman in the third ward of Gettysburg with four candidates seeking the three committee positions. The drawing resulted in the following order on the ballot: C. Russell Howard, Bessie B. Wright, David Eli Stanton and Bernard Weikert.

A similar contest for the three Republican committee positions in York Springs is shown. The candidates were drawn as N. R. Criswell, Walter A. Wolf, Clara E. Hardman and Lewis E. Potts. A contest for Democratic committeewoman in Gettysburg first ward, first precinct is the only contest on the Democratic ballot. Kathryn H. Cunningham and Ada Little were drawn in that order.

STATE CHECKS

Checks totaling $299 were issued to the Gettysburg district Friday for Unemployment Compensation during the last week, it was announced today. The total amount disbursed in the state was $66,575.45.

Firemen To Honor
Late C. J. Myers

Members of the Gettysburg fire company have been requested to meet at the fire engine house Sunday evening at 7 o'clock from where they will march in a body to the Bender funeral home to view the remains of Charles J. Myers, 47, Chambersburg street, who died suddenly Friday morning at the Lett-kenny Depot, near Chambersburg.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral home conducted by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, rector of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

Interment will take place in the National cemetery.

Senator Dies In Richmond Hotel Fire

Richmond, Va., March 11 (AP)—Fire swept through two floors of Richmond's Jefferson hotel shortly after last midnight, killing State Senator Aubrey G. Weaver, and four unidentified women guests and an unidentified sailor from Camp Perry.

Nearly a score of guests were hospitalized and others treated at the scene for shock and smoke inhalation. The hotel, crowded with members of the Virginia general assembly was a scene of confusion as men and women rushed from their rooms or called for help when flames enveloped the fifth and sixth floors. The fire of undetermined cause, apparently began in a linen closet. Damage was confined to the two floors.

STATE DEMANDS
LARGER SHARE
OF U. S. POST-
WAR ROAD FUND

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Pennsylvania today demanded a larger share of proposed post-war Federal aid highway construction funds than allotted under pending legislation along with freedom to spend it on roads where needed.

Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer presented the commonwealth's stand in a statement prepared for delivery before the House Roads committee sometime Monday or Tuesday and called for quick congressional action so each state will be able to formulate a construction program "which it knows can be properly financed."

Present legislation provides $3,000,000,000 for federal aid of which $1,000,000,000 is to be available each of three successive post-war years for distribution to the states. Pennsylvania's share would be $49,700,000, third to New York at $61,900,000 and Texas with $60,500,000.

Formula "Unfair"

Shroyer proposed that the Keystone state amount be boosted to $57,900,000, declaring the existing federal aid formula and the one provided in a pending bill "are unfair to the more populous industrial states."

The commonwealth, championing states rights and home rule principles in government, also strenuously objected to proposed division of federal funds within the states on the basis of one-half for projects on federal aid designated highways and one-half in urban areas and for secondary and feeder roads.

Would Avoid Waste

Urging more elasticity, Shroyer recommended that not less than one-half be expended on federal aid highways and any remaining portion "in the judgment of the individual states, may be utilized in urban areas and-or for secondary and feeder roads."

The secretary argued that this would not make it mandatory "for a state to spend money in a wasteful and uneconomical manner to build or rebuild highways which meet existing traffic requirements."

Shroyer also opposed appropriating or allocating any funds specifically for construction of the inter-regional highway (main traffic arteries) system at the present time, explaining "each state knows better what is possibly than any blanket report can properly designate."

Huge Building Program

Proposed legislative requirements on state matching Federal aid drew vigorous objections. The pending bill provides 75 per cent federal and 25 per cent state participation but Shroyer said this "may breed and encourage extravagant designs and construction in many states." The secretary said his state plans a $100,000,000 annual construction program for the first five years after the war, adding:

"Pennsylvania recommends 65 per cent federal and 35 per cent state" (Please Turn to Page 5)

MOTHER GIVEN MEDAL AND OAK LEAF CLUSTER FOR LOST SON

The Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster "for executing ten separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Europe" was presented to Mrs. Mary Guise, 153 York street, Friday evening, for her son, Staff Sergeant Harmon E. Guise, 28, U. S. Air Forces, "missing in action" since December 16. The presentation was made at Mrs. Guise's home.

Captain J. E. Gustin and Lt. T. J. Hubert, of the Middletown Air Depot, made the award to Mrs. Guise, to keep until her son's return "on behalf of President Roosevelt, General Arnold and the commandant of the Middletown Air Depot."

The Air Medal was awarded Sergeant Guise December 6 and the Oak Leaf Cluster was awarded December 23 by order of Group Commander James L. Travis.

The citation reads as follows: "For exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in ten separate bomber combat missions over enemy-occupied continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this man upon those occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the U. S."

The Air Medal was given upon the completion of five missions and was presented to Sergeant Guise along with 50 other members of the Eighth Air Force at a service in England. The Oak Leaf Cluster was given for the additional five missions made prior to his being listed as "missing in action."

Wife Is a WAC
Cpl. Tech. Ida A. (Yohe) Guise, Gettysburg, wife of Sergeant Guise and a member of the WAC detachment at Camp Stewart, Georgia, was present, on furlough, for the award Friday evening. The award was made before a small group of relatives and intimate friends.

Sergeant Guise is an active member and a former deacon of Bender's Lutheran church which was represented at the ceremony by an elder, Howard Guise, and the pastor, the Rev. Henry W. Sternat. The Ira E. Lady post of the American Legion, Biglerville, was represented by Commander Paul O. Diehl.

Trained In U. S.
Sergeant Guise served with the Eighth Bomber command and was a waist gunner in a Flying Fortress. He received his training at Keesler Field, Mississippi; Lowry Field, Colorado; Tyndall, Florida, where he was made a staff sergeant; Blythe, California; Dyersburg, Tennessee, where he was assigned to his crew; Grand Island, Nebraska and Holton, Maine. He went to England in September 1943.

After flying at least 10 successful missions, Sergeant Guise's plane was last seen at 2 p. m. December 16 over the western Netherlands while returning from a bombing mission over northwestern Germany.

A brother of Sergeant Guise, Tech. Sgt. Lawrence W. Guise, Ordnance, U. S. Army, is stationed in England. He is a former member of Company E, National Guard, of Gettysburg. His wife, Mrs. Margaret (Miller) Guise, Gettysburg, was present for the presentation.

After attending the Adams county public schools, Sgt. Harmon Guise was employed at the Gettysburg furniture factories until 1942 when he joined the air force. He was married in 1939. With his wife, Corporal Guise resided in Cash-town.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Codori, North Stratton street, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital Friday evening.

The "Red" Cross

"It is significant that the Red Cross appeal comes in the Lenten season. It is right that we should make sacrifices during Lent not for the sake of the sacrifice alone but that in sacrificing we may serve and give of ourselves that the welfare of others might be improved. In giving of our time or talents or material substance for our fellowmen we are giving unto God.

"The Red Cross asks that it may give. There is no greater motive in asking. There is no greater reason for giving. 'In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me' (Matthew 25:40).

"We remember another Cross long ago stained red with the blood of sacrifice. To sacrifice some of our great abundance whether it be of our material wealth, our God-given abilities or of our life's blood is to live in the spirit of the Cross."

Rev. Robert M. Hunt, Pastor Gettysburg Presbyterian Church.

Chamber Music At Sunday Musicales

Compositions by Bach, Handel and Haydn will be presented by violin, cello, piano and organ in the Sunday Evening Musicales in the auditorium of the SCA building on the college campus at 8:45 p. m.

A program of chamber music will be given by Bernard Levin, violin; Mrs. W. K. Sundermeyer, cello; Ross Forney, piano, and W. P. Shaffer, organ. The program will include Handel's Concerto for Organ No. 5; Bach violin concerto, and Haydn, Trio No. 1.

Everyone is invited.

4-H WORKERS PREPARE FOR 1944 PROGRAM

Adams county 4-H club members and local leaders this week started plans for the coming year in recognition of national 4-H club Mobilization week ending Sunday.

With most club members expecting to take a greater part in the work of her home during the coming summer because of the greater need for labor, Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension advisor, today urged that next summer's club programs be designed about the needs of the local communities and homes.

The clubs will reorganize in May. Last year the 91 members of the nine clubs in the county in addition to their various club projects collected 2,160 pounds of paper, 555 pounds of rubber, 7,470 pounds of metal, 100 pounds of silk hose and 138 pounds of fat. Seventy-seven of the club girls assisted with the family gardens and 57 helped with the care of the family poultry flock. Sixty-nine aided with family canning and prepared 6,975 quarts of fruits and vegetables for winter use. Twenty-four of the older club members did individual canning of 975 quarts of canned foods.

High Completion Rate
Other activities included knitting, sewing, taking first aid courses, and assisting other farms in Adams county in harvesting cherries, peaches, tomatoes and apples. Fifty-one purchased war bonds valued at $566.25. Many of the girls worked and spent the money they earned for buying school clothes, dental repairs and in one instance, a pair of glasses.

A number of clubs, Round Top, New Chester, Hunterstown and Fairfield with a total of 42 members engaged in 4-H homemakers' assistance projects which consisted of each member accepting some home duty for a one-month period to learn all about that form of work. Round Top with eight members had 100 per cent completions. Thirty-six other members also completed all of their work.

Formed New Clubs
New 4-H clubs organized with 18 members in Idaville and Oak Grove. Both clubs selected 4-H girl at home projects which 14 members completed. One hundred and twelve buttons were sewed on garments and 14 garments were constructed in the work. Five of the girls made other dresses outside their required work and 336 garments were pressed and 14 repaired and renovated by members.

The only 4-H breakfast club in the county was at Good Hope where 13 members enrolled and 10 completed their work. The members prepared 90 dishes suitable for a breakfast. Each was responsible for at least three meals planned and each prepared and served 20 breakfasts. The club was responsible for 450 meals and assisted with 2700 meals.

Two of the older clubs, Mt. Pleasant and Brunsford, with a total enrollment of 18 took up outdoor cookery work. Each club had 100 per cent completions. All of the cooking by the clubs was done out-of-doors and the project proved so popular a number of other clubs are planning to take up the project this year, Miss Adams said.

RELIEF LOAD STEADY
Direct relief payments to needy residents of Adams county during the week ending Friday showed an increase of $1.90 over those of the previous week. Payments for the week were $362.70 which was $61 more than for the comparable week last year, according to an announcement today by State Treasurer G. Harold Welker.

A similar contest for the three Republican committee positions in York Springs is shown. The candidates were drawn as N. R. Criswell, Walter A. Wolf, Clara E. Hardman and Lewis E. Potts. A contest for Democratic committee positions in Gettysburg first ward, first precinct is the only contest on the Democratic ballot. Kathryn H. Cunningham and Ada Little were drawn in that order.

APPEAL IS LOST
Walter Kable Flanigan, Bethesda, Maryland, has been continued in 1A by the area Board of Appeals, it was announced today by the New Oxford draft board. The appeal was taken by the employer.

LEREW WILL FILED
The will of Cornelius B. Lerew, late of Biglerville, has been entered at the court house. The widow, Harriet J. Lerew, Biglerville, is executrix of the $16,500 estate.

PRE-INDUCTION DATA GIVEN TO COUNTIANS HERE

Practical instructions and suggestions for men about to enter the armed forces were given Friday evening at the court house by representatives of the Army, the Red Cross, Selective Service and the American Legion during the first "experimental" pre-induction session for countians.

"You won't have a lot to worry about after you arrive at the reception center but there are a number of matters you should take care of before that time," Capt. Harold Pegg, attached to the New Cumberland reception center, told the audience of accepted registrants, their wives and children.

"Uncle Sam provides for almost all of a service man's needs so don't burden yourselves with a lot of excess baggage that will just have to be sent home," the Army officer advised as he assured the men that the staff at the reception center are there to help the new inductees in every way possible.

"Disregard Rumors"
Ralph Strader, who as field representative for the Red Cross in this area deals daily with the problems of service men and their families, urged the men to follow instructions, give a complete and accurate report on themselves in the initial interview at the reception center and disregard disturbing rumors.

The men who are about to don uniforms were urged to make a will, give a general power of attorney to their wives or other persons who can be trusted, make provision for the interval between the initial and second allotment checks to their families and prepare necessary written proof of facts required for the allotment application.

Captain Pegg, Mr. Strader and Judge W. C. Sheely, who presided at the meeting, impressed the men with the provisions that have been made to safeguard their interests and families. Strader told them: "Uncle Sam has made provision to meet every possible contingency that could arise for any soldier or sailor."

Urges Service Insurance
Captain Pegg and Lt. H. V. Girard of the ROTC staff at Gettysburg college urged the men to take the $10,000 limit in National Service Life insurance with the premiums, ranging from $6 to $8 per month, to be deducted from the men's pay. The insurance is convertible and may be continued after leaving service, it was explained.

Birth certificates of children and marriage licenses (preferably certified copies of the originals) should be taken along to the reception center for use on the allotment application. The means of handling allotments for wives, children or parents to be paid out of deductions from the men's pay with a sum added by the government were described. Family emergencies can be provided for, the men were assured.

Emergency Provisions
Details of the provisions for filing allotment claims and for securing pre-natal and hospital care for wives of service men were given. (Please Turn to Page 2)

FEW APPEAR TO DRAW POSITION

Only three candidates were present Friday at the office of the county election board in the court house when drawings were made for positions on the ballot for the primaries in April.

In most instances position had little to do with the final result with no contests listed for most posts. Esther M. Hayberger drew first place on the ballot over Evelyn Swope Neely. The two are contesting for Republican vice chairman.

A contest is also scheduled for the Republican committeeman in the third ward of Gettysburg with four candidates seeking the three committee positions. The drawing resulted in the candidates' names appearing in the following order on the ballot; C. Russell Howard, Bessie B. Wright, David Eli Stanton and Bernard Welker.

A similar contest for the three Republican committee positions in York Springs is shown. The candidates were drawn as N. R. Criswell, Walter A. Wolf, Clara E. Hardman and Lewis E. Potts. A contest for Democratic committee positions in Gettysburg first ward, first precinct is the only contest on the Democratic ballot. Kathryn H. Cunningham and Ada Little were drawn in that order.

STATE CHECKS
Checks totaling $299 were issued to the Gettysburg district Friday for Unemployment Compensation during the last week, it was announced today. The total amount disbursed in the state was $66,575.45.

Firemen To Honor Late C. J. Myers

Members of the Gettysburg fire company have been requested to meet at the fire engine house Sunday evening at 7 o'clock from where they will march in a body to the Bender funeral home to view the remains of Charles J. Myers, 47, Chambersburg street, who died suddenly Friday morning at the Lettkeny Depot, near Chambersburg.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral home conducted by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, rector of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church.

Interment will take place in the National cemetery.

Dr. Ulysses Apple, Local Graduate, Dies
Word has been received of the death of the Rev. Dr. Ulysses E. Apple, 74, veteran Lutheran minister. Doctor Apple died suddenly at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garrett, Annville.

He graduated from Gettysburg college in 1895, and three years later from the theological seminary of the same institution where in 1927 he was awarded the degree of doctor of divinity.

Senator Dies In Richmond Hotel Fire
Richmond, Va., March 11 (AP)—Fire swept through two floors of Richmond's Jefferson hotel shortly after last midnight, killing State Senator Aubrey G. Weaver, and four unidentified women guests and an unidentified sailor from Camp Perry.

Nearly a score of guests were hospitalized and others treated at the scene for shock and smoke inhalation.

The hotel, crowded with members of the Virginia general assembly was a scene of confusion as men and women rushed from their rooms or called for help when flames enveloped the fifth and sixth floors. The fire of undetermined cause, apparently began in a linen closet. Damage was confined to the two floors.

FIRE CALL TODAY
The Gettysburg fire company was called at 10:15 o'clock this morning to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of Blanche Gulden, 39 Railroad street.

STATE DEMANDS LARGER SHARE OF U. S. POST-WAR ROAD FUND

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Pennsylvania today demanded a larger share of proposed post-war Federal aid highway construction funds than allotted under pending legislation along with freedom to spend it on roads where needed.

Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer presented the commonwealth's stand in a statement prepared for delivery before the House Roads committee sometime Monday or Tuesday and called for quick congressional action so each state will be able to formulate a construction program "which it knows can be properly financed."

Present legislation provides $3,000,000,000 for federal aid of which $1,000,000,000 is to be available each of three successive post-war years for distribution to the states. Pennsylvania's share would be $49,700,000, third to New York at $61,900,000 and Texas with $60,500,000.

Formula "Unfair"

Shroyer proposed that the Keystone state amount be boosted to $57,900,000, declaring the existing federal aid formula and the one provided in a pending bill "are unfair to the more populous industrial states."

The commonwealth, championing states rights and home rule principles in government, also strenuously objected to proposed division of federal funds within the states on the basis of one-half for projects on federal aid designated highways and one-half in urban areas and for secondary and feeder roads.

Would Avoid Waste

Urging more elasticity, Shroyer recommended that not less than one-half be expended on federal aid highways and any remaining portion "in the judgment of the individual states, may be utilized in urban areas and/or for secondary and feeder roads."

The secretary argued that this would not make it mandatory "for a state to spend money in a wasteful and uneconomical manner to build or rebuild highways which meet existing traffic requirements."

Shroyer also opposed appropriating or allocating any funds specifically for construction of the inter-regional highway (main traffic arteries) system at the present time, explaining "each state knows better what is required than any blanket report can possibly designate."

Huge Building Program

Proposed legislative requirements on state matching Federal aid drew vigorous objections. The pending bill provides 75 per cent federal and 25 per cent state participation but Shroyer said this "may breed and encourage extravagant designs and construction in many states." The secretary said his state plans a $100,000,000 annual construction program for the first five years after the war, adding:

"Pennsylvania recommends 65 per cent federal and 35 per cent state" (Please Turn to Page 5)

EASTER DAWN SERVICE

The Adams County Christian Endeavor Union will hold its annual Dawn Service at six o'clock Easter morning in the Gettysburg United Brethren church. Miss Margaret Benner, chairman of the committee, announced that the speaker will be Rev. William Rex, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church.

TO SPONSOR RODEHEAVER

Homer Rodeheaver, world famous song leader will be in Gettysburg Monday, April 17th under the auspices of the Adams County Christian Endeavor Union. He will conduct a public meeting in the St. James Lutheran church. He will be accompanied by B. D. Ackley well known composer of gospel songs and hymns.

TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS

H. M. Cater, Gettysburg R. 2, farmer and David A. Oyler, York street garageman, will be the speakers Monday evening at the regular meeting of the local Rotary club at the YWCA at 6 p. m.

Allied heavy bombers struck German war strength with heavy new pre-invasion punches today, and in the east three massive Russian offensives were ripping and crumbling the entire German stand in south Russia.

Supplementing this nutcracker pressure tightening, the threat in Yugoslavia to Hitler's southern flank grew steadily. Berlin said Allied commandos had landed on the island of Lissa. British destroyers shelled Korcula, another stepping-stone to Yugoslavia.

On the air front, American heavy bombers hammered undisclosed targets in western Germany and the Pas-De-Calais coast this morning after big British Lancasters by night had attacked three aircraft factories and a bearing plant in central and southern France. Mosquitoes raided western Germany, with one plane lost in all night operations.

Three Coordinated Offensives
In Russia, coordinated offensives by three armies were striking forward in a huge drive to throw the Nazis from the southern Ukraine. The Germans were fighting heavily to hold their lines.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev threw his second Ukrainian army into the third and last assault, breaking into Nazi defenses on a 109-mile front southwest of Cherkasy. Moscow declared 20,000 Germans had been killed, 2,500 captured, and 300 towns and communities liberated in a five-day push that routed 14 enemy divisions. Uman, within 30 miles of the Bug river, was a main prize.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov meanwhile was deepening his push into old Poland, fighting in the streets of Tarnopol. The third Ukrainian army was driving to the southwest upon Kerson and Nikolaev on the Black sea.

BULLETINS

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 11 (AP)—

Allied troops are advancing all around the Bismarck sea while the Japanese, without any luck, finally are trying to choke off at the source the daily air attacks on their dying base of Rabaul, New Britain.

The main Allied victory reported today by General Douglas MacArthur was the capture by U. S. Marines of the Talasea airfield and village, 170 miles from Rabaul, on the north New Britain coast. The bombing of Rabaul continued.

U. S. soldiers, at the same time, were disclosed to have pushed ahead three and one-half more miles against Japanese opposition on Los Negros island in the strategic Admiralty group. Other advances along the northeast New Guinea coast above Sador put Allied forces nearer than ever to Madang.

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 11 (AP) — British destroyers have shelled towns on Korcula island off the Dalmatian coast, reported occupied by large numbers of Germans, headquarters announced today.

A communique said the bombardments were carried out Wednesday night and that "in spite of accurate fire from enemy shore batteries our ships sustained neither casualties nor damage."

The ground bulletin said Eighth Army patrols clashed with the Germans at many points in Italy and that two small Nazi thrusts were repulsed by Indian forces. Fifth Army troops engaged in patrols on both the main front and on the beachhead below Rome.

CHIMNEY FIRE
The Gettysburg fire company was called to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of Mrs. Emory Zepp, East Middle street at 7:50 o'clock Friday evening. There was no damage.

CODE VIOLATORS

Roy A. Decker, York Springs, and William A. Shover, Gettysburg, each forfeited $5 fines and costs on speeding charges at Frederick Wednesday evening.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Dennis Hartlaub, Littlestown; Mrs. Edward Rinehart, West Middle street; Mrs. Richard Codori, North Stratton street, and David C. Rudisill, Littlestown, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Paul T. Moritz and infant son, Harold Edgar, Gettysburg R. 5, have been discharged.

NOW 1ST LIEUTENANT

Jeanne E. Hoffman, ANC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hoffman, Baltimore street, has been promoted to first lieutenant. She is stationed at Valley Forge hospital, Phoenixville.

Miss Mary Stock, Harrisburg road, has returned after a business trip to Baltimore.

Fighting in Italy was limited to patrol actions and air blows—headquarters in Naples announced that the bomber raids against Rome Friday had cut the main Florence Rome railway.

King Peter in London
Allied headquarters said towns on Korcula Island of the Dalmatian coast were shelled Wednesday without damage from German batteries. There was no Allied confirmation of the Berlin claim that Commandos led by a "General Churchill" had landed on the island of Lissa, apparently in attempt to seize it as a supply base.

A delayed dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Daniel de Luce said Marshal Tito's partisans estimated the Germans had sent elements of 20 divisions into Yugoslavia. King Peter of the exiled Yugoslav government arrived in London, possibly to work out a compromise to unite Yugoslav factions politically, and Moscow said the Yugoslav minister to the Soviet Union had resigned from Peter's regime to offer his services to Tito.

The Irish of Dublin supported Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's stand in refusing the U. S. request to oust German and Japanese diplomatic officials accused of spying on Allied invasion preparations from Eire. Washington predicted measures to safeguard the Allies against such espionage; British newspapers criticized the Irish.

A special French military tribunal in Algiers convicted Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy interior minister, of treason and condemned him to death.

State To Surface 58 Miles Of Roads

A total of 58.49 miles of state highways in Adams county are scheduled for surface treatment this year and next, it was announced today by Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer.

The Adams county figures were included in an announcement that covered a program for the surface treatment of 4,300 miles of bituminous roads in the state at a cost of $4,140,000.

Materials to be used in this work consists of 18,000,000 gallons of bituminous materials which will be contracted for at a cost of $1,750,000 and 90,000 tons of stone, slag and gravel to cost $225,000.

Fifteen hundred men will be employed on this work. Mechanical equipment to be used will include 450 trucks, 100 rollers, 60 power loaders and 60 oil distributors.

MUCH DEPENDS ON PROGRESS OF INVASION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Two too hopeful seekers after a hot tip all but made me miss my early morning train to the office by demanding to know when the European war will end, and for their pains were advised to ask heaven which alone has the truth.

As I jumped for the coach I yelled back that nobody could give a reasonable guess until we have the solution to another mystery—when the Allied invasion of western Europe is going to take place. That's the key—barring a long drawn out war or a collapse of German morale. However, the Red Army's sensational successes in the Ukraine have created some mighty interesting possibilities.

Nazi Concern

The Germans themselves have indicated worry over one contingency. This is a cross-channel invasion while the whole Nazi right wing in Russia, totaling maybe half a million men, is in dire jeopardy.

Hilder, has been figuring on withdrawing troops from Russia to defend France. But supposing the western Allies should strike soon—say when the good weather arrives in April? The Fuehrer would be hard pushed to get help from his eastern battle line.

One argument against such an early invasion has been that normally military operations are stalled in Russia for about two months beginning with April when the spring produces some of the world's worst mud. The western Allies want heavy pressure against the Germans on the Soviet front during the early stages of the invasion so as to ease the weight of the Nazi counter attacks in France.

Red Progress

Red Marshal Zhukov's amazing drive, which threatens to destroy part of Nazi Marshal Von Manstein's army and drive the rest of it into Rumania, may give the Anglo-American Allies a chance to choose whether they will strike early, or wait until Russia's spring is past and the steppes are again suitable for all-out operations. Indeed, the Russian successes may so disrupt the Fuehrer's organization in Russia that he will be indefinitely prevented from moving many troops to France.

As a matter of fact, the Nazi dictator will be lucky if he doesn't suffer a huge disaster in the Ukraine. Still, we mustn't take a Nazi catastrophe for granted. Von Manstein is a master soldier. He's made an astonishingly clever suicide stand to satisfy Hitler's political schemes, and might pull another rabbit out of the hat.

As the battle is now developing it wouldn't be surprising to see Von Manstein compelled to abandon defense of the southern Polish border and devote his energy to defending the gateway to the Balkans. This presumably would force the Nazis to shorten their entire line by pulling it back to central Poland.

This is one of the decisive engagements of the war.

FORMER VICHY OFFICIAL GETS DEATH SENTENCE

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Algiers, March 11 (AP)—Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy interior minister, today was convicted of treason and condemned to death by a special military tribunal after the defendant in a last passionate declaration of innocence, had cried out "this is not a court of justice... it's a political coup."

The court, after one hour of deliberation, convicted Pucheu of treason, malfeasance in office and collaboration with the enemy. He was found innocent of illegal arrests and conspiracy to overthrow the third republic. Pucheu was not present when the five-man court brought in the verdict. Earlier the court refused a defense motion for a general demurrer to the indictment.

Pucheu has 24 hours in which to file an appeal. His attorneys said they would decide this afternoon whether to take an appeal.

The court, which found Pucheu guilty on all but four of the 14 counts in the indictment, said there were no extenuating circumstances.

First bitter and then fervent, Pucheu, in his last words before the tribunal, told Special Prosecutor General Weiss his policies would lead France into "the worst internal strife" and concluded passionately: "Quoi qu'il arrive, vive la France." (Whatever happens, long live France.)

600 INDUCTION DEFERMENTS IN STATE DROPPED

Harrisburg, March 11 (AP)—More than 600 of Pennsylvania's 1,940 replacement schedules for industrial plants have been cancelled by State Selective Service since March 1 to provide manpower for the armed forces.

Col. Richard K. Mellon, state director, announced yesterday the cancelled schedules, set up originally to delay induction of essential workers until substitutes were trained, covered both large and small concerns, but headquarters declined to make public their names or to say how many registrants were affected.

"This is in line with our policy to examine every schedule carefully," declared Mellon in a statement, "to determine which ones can be cancelled and which ones can be revised to provide for a faster release of men, particularly those under 26 years of age."

Revising Schedules
"We are going ahead with the cancellations and at the same time we are revising schedules which will remain in effect until their normal expiration date. Many schedules which are allowed to run to their expiration dates will not be renewed."

Local boards will be advised, Mellon added, as schedules are cancelled or revised so they can take proper action in the case of each registrant affected. Employers also will be notified.

Mellon explained the policy of headquarters is designed "to eliminate as many replacement schedules as possible in a systematic and orderly way to comply with the President's directive that all occupational deferments be reviewed and that an adequate number of men be made available for the armed forces."

"It required about 15 months to put 1,940 replacement schedules into effect but the reduction in their number will be accomplished as rapidly as possible."

Local boards, meantime, are reconsidering cases of all registrants who are deferred occupationally but who are not on replacement schedules, Mellon declared "this work is keeping the boards busy while headquarters proceeds with the replacement schedule review."

Mr. Strader emphasized that there is always means of communicating with the family back home in emergency and for the family to reach the soldier or sailor—through the Red Cross if individual means are inadequate. On sufficient reason, emergency trips can be made home with proper permission, he said. Religious and recreational facilities in the Army and Navy were outlined.

Judge Sheely referred to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief act and advised men to see their attorneys about their special problems. Legal advice also is available in the service, he pointed out. Service men must make application for ballots within specified periods before elections but must be registered in their home district.

Other Meetings Planned
During the question period that followed the talks Dr. R. D. Wickerham of the local Draft Board; Miss Margaret McMillan of the Red Cross, Lt. Girard, Capt. Pegg, Mr. Strader and Judge Sheely furnished the answers.

The meeting opened with the presentation of the colors by a Legion color guard made up of Lawrence M. Sheads, Commander Paul Spangler, Roy A. Alexander and C. Arthur Brame. Bugler Eddie Moser sounded "To the Colors."

It is planned to hold a similar session after the next large group of countians has passed their physical examinations.

IRISH REJECT PRE-INVASION PLEA TO OUST ALL AXIS SPIES
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, March 11 (AP)—Drastic measures to safeguard Allied invasion preparations in Britain from Axis espionage were expected today to follow Prime Minister De Valera's refusal of an American request that Ireland oust German and Japanese diplomats accused of heading a spy ring.

The need for early and decisive action to keep enemy agents from further enlarging their knowledge of Allied plans for the second front assault on Europe was emphasized by an official statement that because of spy activities based on Ireland "not only the success of the operations but the lives of thousands of United Nations' soldiers are at stake."

Plea Is Rejected
The American case was set forth in a note made public by Secretary of State Hull last night in which De Valera was urged to expel all Axis diplomats and consular officials from his country.

At the same time the Irish legation here released the text of De Valera's reply, turning down the appeal. De Valera claimed Ireland's counter-spy methods were effective and asserted that no American lives would be lost "through any indifference or neglect of its duty" on the part of his country.

He also made two other main points: That expulsion of German and Japanese officers would be a first step toward going to war with the Axis, which his country is determined not to do; and that he had received assurances from the United States that it did not intend invading Ireland.

Thus for the first time it was officially revealed how gravely the Dublin government had viewed events of the past few weeks, during which the world knew only that Ireland had been swept by waves of invasion jitters.

Several further measures appear to be open to the United States and Britain, which had backed the American request to the limit. All of them and possible others are believed to be under consideration here and in London. They include:

1. Closing and fully guarding the border between Eire and northern Ireland as an emergency military measure.
2. Breaking diplomatic relations with the Dublin government. This appeared to be the most improbable step of all since it usually creates more problems than it solves.
3. Clamping down on economic collaboration with Ireland. The country is an integral part of the British economic system and dependent entirely on British and American shipping.

Fairfield
Fairfield. — The regular monthly meeting of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce was held in the high school building Wednesday evening with Mr. H. L. Harbaugh, the president presiding.

After routine business, the meeting was thrown open to the discussion of post war plans for consolidation of schools of the borough and surrounding townships. The local school board and those of Franklin, Liberty, Highland and Hamilton boroughs were represented. The remarks made by members of the various boards suggest much interest in the project, which will be further discussed by the individual boards. Reports from their meetings will be presented at the next monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

D. D. Crisp, assistant Scout Executive of Scout activities in York and Adams counties, presented a program of Boy Scout work. John Bream, Cashtown chairman of the Black Walnut area, related the account.

MUCH DEPENDS ON PROGRESS OF INVASION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
Two too hopeful seekers after a lot tip all but made me miss my early morning train to the office by demanding to know when the European war will end, and for their pains were advised to ask heaven which alone has the truth.
As I jumped for the coach I yelled back that nobody could give a reasonable guess until we have the solution to another mystery—when the Allied invasion of western Europe is going to take place. That's the key—barring a long drawn out war or a collapse of German morale. However, the Red Army's sensational successes in the Ukraine have created some mighty interesting possibilities.

Nazi Concern
The Germans themselves have indicated worry over one contingency. This is a cross-channel invasion while the whole Nazi right wing in Russia, totaling maybe half a million men, is in dire jeopardy.
Hitler, has been figuring on withdrawing troops from Russia to defend France. But supposing the western Allies should strike soon—say when the good weather arrives in April? The Fuehrer would be hard pushed to get help from his eastern battle line.

One argument against such an early invasion has been that normally military operations are stalled in Russia for about two months beginning with April when the spring produces some of the world's worst mud. The western Allies want heavy pressure against the Germans on the Soviet front during the early stages of the invasion so as to ease the weight of the Nazi counter attacks in France.

Red Progress
Red Marshal Zhukov's amazing drive, which threatens to destroy part of Nazi Marshal Von Manstein's army and drive the rest of it into Rumania, may give the Anglo-American Allies a chance to choose whether they will strike early, or wait until Russia's spring is past and the steppes are again suitable for all-out operations. Indeed, the Russian successes may so disrupt the Fuehrer's organization in Russia that he will be indefinitely prevented from moving many troops to France.

As a matter of fact, the Nazi dictator will be lucky if he doesn't suffer a huge disaster in the Ukraine. Still, we mustn't take a Nazi catastrophe for granted. Von Manstein is a master soldier. He's made an astonishingly clever suicide stand to satisfy Hitler's political schemes, and might pull another rabbit out of the hat.

As the battle is now developing it wouldn't be surprising to see Von Manstein compelled to abandon defense of the southern Polish border and devote his energy to defending the gateway to the Balkans. This presumably would force the Nazis to shorten their entire line by pulling it back to central Poland. This is one of the decisive engagements of the war.

William O. Cooper
William O. Cooper, 91, retired Menallen township farmer, died this morning at 3:15 o'clock at his home in Cumberland township from complications.

He spent nearly his entire life in the Menallen township area near Wexville. He is survived by a number of nephews and nieces. Funeral services Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Wexville Methodist church of which he was a member, with the Rev. George W. Harrison officiating. Interment in Wexville cemetery. Friends may call at the Routsong and Dugan funeral home, Bendersville, Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

FORMER VICHY OFFICIAL GETS DEATH SENTENCE

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Algiers, March 11 (AP)—Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy interior minister, today was convicted of treason and condemned to death by a special military tribunal after the defendant in a last passionate declaration of innocence, had cried out "this is not a court of justice" "it's a political coup."

The court, after one hour of deliberation, convicted Pucheu of treason, malfeasance in office and collaboration with the enemy. He was found innocent of illegal arrests and conspiracy to overthrow the third republic. Pucheu was not present when the five-man court brought in the verdict. Earlier the court refused a defense motion for a general demurrer to the indictment. Pucheu has 24 hours in which to file an appeal. His attorneys said they would decide this afternoon whether to take an appeal.

The court, which found Pucheu guilty on all but four of the 14 counts in the indictment, said there were no extenuating circumstances. First bitter and then fervent, Pucheu, in his last words before the tribunal, told Special Prosecutor General Weiss his policies would lead France into "the worst internal strife" and concluded passionately: "Quoi qu'il arrive, vive la France." (Whatever happens, long live France.)

Calisthenics is a word of Greek origin that means beauty and strength.

600 INDUCTION DEFERMENTS IN STATE DROPPED

Harrisburg, March 11 (AP)—More than 600 of Pennsylvania's 1,940 replacement schedules for industrial plants have been cancelled by State Selective Service since March 1 to provide manpower for the armed forces.

Col. Richard K. Mellon, state director, announced yesterday the cancelled schedules, set up originally to delay induction of essential workers until substitutes were trained, covered both large and small concerns, but headquarters declined to make public their names or to say how many registrants were affected. "This is in line with our policy to examine every schedule carefully," declared Mellon in a statement, "to determine which ones can be cancelled and which ones can be revised to provide for a faster release of men, particularly those under 26 years of age."

Revising Schedules
"We are going ahead with the cancellations and at the same time we are revising schedules which will remain in effect until their normal expiration date. Many schedules which are allowed to run to their expiration dates will not be renewed."

Local boards will be advised, Mellon added, as schedules are cancelled or revised so they can take proper action in the case of each registrant affected. Employers also will be notified.

Mellon explained the policy of headquarters is designed "to eliminate as many replacement schedules as possible in a systematic and orderly way to comply with the President's directive that all occupational deferments be reviewed and that an adequate number of men be made available for the armed forces." "It required about 15 months to put 1,940 replacement schedules into effect but the reduction in their number will be accomplished as rapidly as possible."

Local boards, meantime, are re-considering cases of all registrants who are deferred occupationally but who are not on replacement schedules. Mellon declared "this work is keeping the boards busy while headquarters proceeds with the replacement schedule review."

Mr. Strader emphasized that there is always means of communicating with the family back home in emergency and for the family to reach the soldier or sailor—through the Red Cross if individual means are inadequate. On sufficient reason, emergency trips can be made home with proper permission, he said. Religious and recreational facilities in the Army and Navy were outlined.

Judge Sheely referred to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief act and advised men to see their attorneys about their special problems. Legal advice also is available in the service, he pointed out. Service men must make application for ballots within specified periods before elections but must be registered in their home district.

Other Meetings Planned
During the question period that followed the talks Dr. R. D. Wickham of the local Draft Board; Miss Margaret McMillan of the Red Cross, Lt. Girard, Capt. Pegg, Mr. Strader and Judge Sheely furnished the answers.

The meeting opened with the presentation of the colors by a Legion color guard made up of Lawrence M. Sheads, Commander Paul Spangler, Roy A. Alexander and Art Arthur Brame. Bugler Eddie Moser sounded "To the Colors."

It is planned to hold a similar session after the next large group of conscripts has passed their physical examinations.

IRISH REJECT PRE-INVASION PLEA TO OUST ALL AXIS SPIES

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 11 (AP)—

Drastic measures to safeguard Allied invasion preparations in Britain from Axis espionage were expected today to follow Prime Minister De Valera's refusal of an American request that Ireland oust German and Japanese diplomats accused of heading a spy ring.

The need for early and decisive action to keep enemy agents from further enlarging their knowledge of Allied plans for the second front assault on Europe was emphasized by an official statement that because of spy activities based on Ireland "not only the success of the operations but the lives of thousands of United Nations' soldiers are at stake."

Plea Is Rejected

The American case was set forth in a note made public by Secretary of State Hull last night in which De Valera was urged to expel all Axis diplomats and consular officials from his country.

At the same time the Irish legation here released the text of De Valera's reply, turning down the appeal. De Valera claimed Ireland's counter-spy methods were effective and asserted that no American lives would be lost "through any indifference or neglect of its duty" on the part of his country.

He also made two other main points: That expulsion of German and Japanese officers would be a first step toward going to war with the Axis, which his country is determined not to do; and that he had received assurances from the United States that it did not intend invading Ireland.

Thus for the first time it was officially revealed how gravely the Dublin government had viewed events of the past few weeks, during which the world knew only that Ireland had been swept by waves of invasion jitters.

Several further measures appear to be open to the United States and Britain, which had backed the American request to the limit, all of them and possible others are believed to be under consideration here and in London. They include: 1. Closing and fully guarding the border between Eire and northern Ireland as an emergency military measure.

2. Breaking diplomatic relations with the Dublin government. This appeared to be the most improbable step of all since it usually creates more problems than it solves.

3. Clamping down on economic collaboration with Ireland. The country is an integral part of the British economic system and dependent entirely on British and American shipping.

Fairfield

Fairfield.—The regular monthly meeting of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce was held in the high school building Wednesday evening with Mr. H. L. Harbaugh, the president presiding.

After routine business, the meeting was thrown open to the discussion of post war plans for consolidation of schools of the borough and surrounding townships. The local school board and those of Franklin, Liberty, Highland and Hamilton townships were represented. The remarks made by members of the various boards suggest much interest in the project, which will be further discussed by the individual boards. Reports from their meetings will be presented at the next monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

D. D. Crisp, assistant Scout Executive of Scout activities in York and Adams counties, presented a program of Boy Scout work. John Bream, Cashtown chairman of the Black Walnut area, related the ac-

CHAMBERSBURG TRIPS LEBANON QUINTET 42-37

For the fourth straight year the Southern Pennsylvania scholastic basketball champion rules District 3 of the PIAA.

Chambersburg's honors Friday night by defeating Lebanon, Central Penn. loop champion, 42-37, in a thrilling game played before approximately 4,000 fans in the Hershey Sports Arena.

Gettysburg high's Maroons won the South Penn. and District 3 honors in 1941, 1942 and 1943.

The Trojans were forced to come from behind to win, Lebanon leading 14-4 early in the second period. Lebanon, coached by Bernie Thrush, former Biglerville high mentor, kept in the thick of the battle throughout and the outcome was in doubt until the final minute.

The victory marked the 20th in a row this year for the Franklin countians.

Chambersburg will now face the District 1 champion in an inter-district game.

BARTOLO WINS FEATHERWEIGHT BOXING CROWN

By BILL KING
Boston, March 11 (AP)—Although his championship hopes appeared buried deeply only nine months ago when he was soundly trounced by Willie Pep, a New York boxing commission title, Boston's Sal Bartolo today was admiring himself in his new NBA featherweight crown.

While battling for Pep's title, Bartolo, lost everyone of the 15 rounds, just the reverse of what happened last night when he topped Phil Terranova from his NBA throne before a 12,130 crowd at the Boston Garden.

Against young and comparatively inexperienced Terranova, who won his version of that title by besting an over-ripe Jackie Callura last summer, Bartolo was as fast and as skillful as Pep was when he defended his laurels against that Bostonian.

Since Bartolo had seven years of professional fistclouting behind him, against two for Terranova, the former launched his title bid as an 8-5 favorite and he lost little time proving that those top-heavy odds were justified. Bartolo's lightning fast left jabbing, his accurate two-fisted hooking and artistic footwork were weapons much too heavy for the dogged Terranova.

Phil Forces Fight

Terranova, probably the harder puncher, did all of the leading and, despite his discouraging reception, refused to take a backward step at any time. Most of his punches, body clubbing and uppercuts, were thrown when Bartolo had him tied up in clinches. But while Terranova was losing ground every passing minute, there never was a time when he was not dangerous. He was as strong and as aggressive as the finish was he was starting out and always was ready to let go a knock-out punch. The cool and cautious Bartolo, however, refused to give him the slightest opening.

After taking the very short end of the purses in his two most important starts, Bartolo probably will have a chance to cash in on his new title here within the next 45 days, for he has agreed to give Terranova a return match within that interval. The Bostonian received 55 per cent of last night's gate receipts, which grossed $35,154, but out of that he had to pay Terranova's $12,500 guarantee.

Meanwhile his management appears to be worrying about his weight, for he had some difficulty coming in at the 126-pounds limit, three-quarters of a pound heavier than the out-classed Terranova.

Finals will be held tonight.

Freshman Favorite In Chicago Meet

Chicago, March 11 (AP)—A 17 year old freshman ranked as the favorite to win individual honors today from among some 150 track stars from big ten conference schools who will compete in their annual meet.

He is Claude (Buddy) Young, who enrolled at the University of Illinois six weeks ago and in dual meets has topped first in his three track specialties and also competed in the mile relay. He is favored to win the 60 yard dash, the 70-yard low hurdles and the broad jump.

SCRANTON FIVE WHIPS DELONE QUINTET 41-29

(Special to The Gettysburg Times)

Scranton, March 11—Unable to stop the sharp shooting of Henry Kolojeski and Al Rose, Delone high bowed out of the state Catholic tournament last night by falling before St. Mary's high of Scranton, 41-29, before a capacity audience at South Scranton Junior high school.

The visiting squirrels ran into considerable trouble on the big court and trailed every minute of the way. They were played all over the floor by the champions of the Scranton diocese and had few free shots at the baskets.

Kolojeski, the game's outstanding player, started things off in the opening minute with a field goal and the Scranton team was in front to stay. Rose, who costarred with Kolojeski, dropped in another before Delone finally came through on a basket by Henry Noel, three minutes after the game started.

St. Mary's Sets Pace

The Delone tally was the signal for Kolojeski to go on a one-man spree and he dropped in two field goals and a foul to run the score up to 9-2 before Delone registered again on a foul by Bernard Funk.

The Game with Kolojeski and Rose contributing, put the tally up to 12-3 before Captain Johnny Folmer tossed in a twin pointer just before the period ended.

The second period was a repetition of the first as the Scrantons continued to add to their lead. Once again the quarter the Squires rallied to cut the gap to 10-10 only to have the winners quickly assume charge and run up a 26-12 lead by the end of the first half.

In the closing periods the visitors did their best work but try as they did, they failed to make any serious threats. They outscored the Scrantons by a single point in each session.

Scranton Stalls

The count was 36-23 at the end of the third. In the Fourth St. Mary's took a 41-24 lead before they decided to "kill" the ball. The Squires broke through in the closing minutes to toss in five points before time ran out. Jerry Lawrence throwing in the final two baskets of the game.

Kolojeski and Rose scored 30 points between them to outscore the entire Delone quintet by a single point. Kolojeski accounted for 16 while Rose tossed in 14. Each player tallied 10 counters in the first half.

Rose, a 15 year old sophomore, played with a sprained ankle that forced him to limp noticeably. He retired to the bench at the start of the fourth.

The victory gave St. Mary's the right to oppose Southeast Catholic of Philadelphia for the eastern championship next Tuesday night at Philadelphia's Convention Hall. The Philadelphia team advanced last night with a 51-33 victory over Allentown Catholics.

Included among the spectators was the Right Rev. William J. Hafey, bishop of the Scranton Diocese.

FISSEL PACES ARENDTSTVILLE CAGE SCORERS

Despite the fact that the Arendtstville Vocational high school cagers disappointed fans in the class B PIAA play-off they amassed a total of 737 points against their opponents 453 in a seventeen game schedule this season. The Apple Pickers dropped games to Lemoyne, Gettysburg, Delone and West York.

Captain Paul Fissel who played in every high school game during the past four years, led the scoring with a total of 268 points which included 113 goals from the field and 42 out of 100 fouls shot during the campaign. Early in the season Captain Fissel was transferred from the pivot spot to a forward where he did his best scoring.

Bobby Allison, a speedy sophomore forward, rated second in scoring honors with a total of 198 points in 17 games.

Other leading scorers included Dick Slaybaugh, junior guard, 104; Jack Taylor, senior center, 103; and George Fissel, junior forward, 40.

Captain Fissel and Jack Taylor, both rangy players, will be lost to the squad next season through graduation. Taylor, former scholastic player in Iowa, proved to be a bulwark on the Arendtstville defense as he was unusually adept in getting the rebound from the backboard but was handicapped during the later part of the season with a torn ligament in his foot.

Several outstanding reserves were developed during the season including Bob Hartzel, a junior forward; John Allison, freshman guard; and Sterling Singley, freshman pivot.

Arendtstville's victims during the campaign included: Biglerville, Delone, Dover, New Oxford, Littlestown, Washington Township, alumni, and Bolling Springs.

Madrid, March 11 (AP)—A German press dispatch from Rome arriving here today announced the death in a Turin, Italy, hospital of Michele Bonaglia, former middleweight boxing champion of Europe.

The dispatch said death resulted from wounds received when Bonaglia was attacked by "bandits."

New York, March 11 (AP)—Lincoln university won the negro intercollegiate basketball championship last night by beating North Carolina college, 57 to 52, at the Renaissance Casino.

SAVOLD PULLS SURPRISE BY BEATING BAKSI

By TED MEIER

New York, March 11 (AP)—Lee Savold, veteran blonde heavyweight from Paterson, N. J., gave boxing promoter Mike Jacobs a birthday present last night by winning a surprise 10-round split decision over Joe Baksi, the Kulpmont Klouter, before 15,947 (gross gate $62,170) at Madison Square Garden.

Savold, a guest at a party in honor of Jacobs' 64th birthday after the scrap, was 12 to 5 underdog, but won by properly pacing himself with the aid of his manager, Bill Daly. All through the fight Savold kept looking over his shoulder at his corner where Daly signaled when to speed up and when to slow down.

"It was about time he won," grinned Mike in Savold's dressing room, adding he would bring the two together in a return match sometime next month over a 12-round route. Mike referred to Savold's losing his four previous Garden bouts.

While Baksi, recent upset winner of Tami Mauriello, slammed home numerous lefts and rights, he seemed unable to hook with Savold's left jab and hooks. In the first and eighth rounds Savold brought blood to Baksi's nose. "I guess I left my fight in the gym," mourned Baksi afterwards.

Referee's Vote Decides

At the end it was Referee Frank Fullam's vote that decided the fight after the two judges disagreed. Judge Joe Agnello gave it to Savold, six rounds to four. Judge Jimmy Hagen voted for Baksi by the same ballot. Fullam gave Savold five rounds, Baksi four and called one (the tenth) even.

This observer gave Savold four rounds, Baksi three and called three even, with the Paterson fighter taking the third and ninth by wide margins. Savold, who weighed 198 pounds to Baksi's 210½, started fast, slowed down in the middle rounds and closed strong.

Jacobs also observed his upset day by matching Juan Zurita, nasal conqueror of Sammy Angott, with Beau Quer for 10 rounds at the Garden March 31. Bob Montgomery and Angott originally were supposed to meet that day for the undisputed lightweight championship, but this was thrown out yesterday because of Angott's defeat and Montgomery's reported illness.

General John Phelan, chairman of the state Boxing Commission, ordered Montgomery to report for a physical examination next Tuesday to determine the nature of his illness.

Chicago, March 11 (AP)—Thornton (Lefty) Lee is going to start the 1944 season with the Chicago White Sox as a $1 a year man—the same terms he began the 1943 season.

The big southpaw pitcher, who has been bothered by a sore arm for two years, presumably will operate on the $1 a year basis until Manager Jim Dykes is convinced his arm ailment was eliminated by surgical work last fall.

His 1943 record was five wins and nine defeats but he was granted a regular salary early in the season when he displayed winning form.

CHAMBERSBURG TRIPS LEBANON QUINTET 42-37

For the fourth straight year the Southern Pennsylvania scholastic basketball champion rules District 3 of the PIAA.

Chambersburg's unbeaten Trojans clinched the honors Friday night by defeating Lebanon, Central Penn loop champion, 42-37, in a thrilling game played before approximately 4,000 fans in the Hershey Sports Arena.

Gettysburg high's Maroons won the South Penn and District 3 honors in 1941, 1942 and 1943.

The Trojans were forced to come from behind to win, Lebanon leading 14-4 early in the second period.

Lebanon, coached by Bernie Thrush, former Biglerville high mentor, kept in the thick of the battle throughout and the outcome was in doubt until the final minute.

The victory marked the 20th in a row this year for the Franklin countians.

Chambersburg will now face the District 1 champion in an inter-district game.

BARTOLO WINS FEATHERWEIGHT BOXING CROWN

By BILL KING
Boston, March 11 (AP)—Although his championship hopes appeared buried deeply only nine months ago, when he was soundly trounced by Willie Pep, a New York boxing commission titlist, Boston's Sal Bartolo today was admiring himself in his new NBA featherweight crown.

While battling for Pep's title, Bartolo, lost everyone of the 15 rounds, just the reverse of what happened last night when he toppled Phil Terranova from his NBA Throne before a 12,130 crowd at the Boston Garden.

Against young and comparatively inexperienced Terranova, who won his version of that title by besting an over-ripe Jackie Callura last summer, Bartolo was as fast and as skillful as Pep was when he defended his laurels against that Bostonian.

Since Bartolo had seven years of professional fistclimbing behind him, against two for Terranova, the former launched his title bid as an 8-5 favorite and he lost little time proving that those top-heavy odds were justified. Bartolo's lightning fast left jabbing, his accurate two-fisted hooking and artistic footwork were weapons much too heavy for the dogged Terranova.

Phil Forces Fight
Terranova, probably the harder puncher, did all of the leading and, despite his discouraging reception, refused to take a backward step at any time. Most of his punches, body clubbing and uppercuts, were thrown when Bartolo had him tied up in clinches. But while Terranova was losing ground every passing minute, there never was a time when he was not dangerous. He was as strong and as aggressive at the finish as he was starting out and always was ready to let go a knock-out punch. The cool and cautious Bartolo, however, refused to give him the slightest opening.

After taking the very short end of the purses in his two most important starts, Bartolo probably will have a chance to cash in on his new title here within the next 45 days, for he has agreed to give Terranova a return match within that interval. The Bostonian received 55 per cent of last night's gate receipts, which grossed $35,154, but out of that he had to pay Terranova's $12,500 guarantee.

Meanwhile his management appears to be worrying about his weight, for he had some difficulty coming in at the 126-pounds limit, three-quarters of a pound heavier than the out-classed Terranova.

Erie, Pa., March 11 (AP)—Waynesburg high, defending WPIAL wrestling champion, entered the semi-finals today with 11 qualifying contestants. Qualifying matches last night saw Canonsburg next with 10 and Chartiers township third with eight. Other teams and their qualifiers were Greensburg 5, West View 5, Dormont 4, Jefferson township 3 and Millvale 3. Finals will be held tonight.

Freshman Favorite In Chicago Meet

Chicago, March 11 (AP)—A 17 year old freshman ranked as the favorite to win individual honors today from among some 150 track stars from big ten conference schools who will compete in their annual meet.

He is Claude (Buddy) Young, who enrolled at the University of Illinois six weeks ago and in dual meets has copied first in his three track specialties and also competed in the mile relay. He is favored to win the 60 yard dash, the 70-yard low hurdles and the broad jump.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON

New York, March 11 (AP)—Be-set by trainee transfers just before today's Eastern Intercollegiate boxing tourney, Coach Leo Houck of Penn State appealed to service men at college for a volunteer heavy-weight . . . He got a prompt answer from Marine Private Wilbert Greene, who previously had fought only against the Japs, participating in four engagements in the Solomons.

Greene, who came to Penn State from Tulagi for officer training, will make his ring debut in the big tourney today . . . The new pro football league promoters are being turned down by folks with dough in Minneapolis and St. Paul . . . probably don't think they could compete with Minnesota . . . Joseph M. Foley, announcer at tonight's K. of C. track meet, will double in music Tuesday as commentator at the Town Hall concert of Irish music.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "Bob Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Nationals, scoffing at Johns Hopkins students by saying their teams rarely win games is a prime example of the pot calling the kettle black." . . . or you might say of rival Blue Jays crowing.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
The Yankees, who received 50 dozen 1944 baseballs for use in the last world series, will try them in spring training instead . . . "We didn't use any last fall," remarked a Yank spokesman. "The Cardinals did and you saw what happened to them." . . . Harry Harper, one-time pitcher for the Senators, Red Sox and Yankees, has been appointed New Jersey Commissioner of Labor—just in time to do something about the player shortage . . . Have you noticed that coal miner Joe Baksi is the first real 200-pound heavyweight to appear in Madison Square Garden since Joe Louis licked Abe Simons two years ago? . . . Everett Marshall, former heavyweight rasher, is operating a big onion farm at La Junta, Colo., and has no tears to shed for the mat game.

CEMENTING FRIENDLY RELATIONS
Ohio high schools customarily mark one space on their score boards "guests" instead of "opp." or "vis." . . . and frequently the home teams take their guests to dinner after the games . . . but somehow the scoreboard politeness makes little difference in what the kids in the gallery call the opposition.

The New Orleans Navy Armed Guard center basketball team, recent winner of the Southern A. A. U. basketball tournament, had a starting team composed not only of ex-college players but ex-coaches, and two of the subs also are former coaches . . . Ensigns Don Brock of North Carolina and Webb Milam of Indiana State Teachers were picked for the all-tournament team . . . The bowling team of the Ottumwa, Iowa, Naval Air station recently produced $70,000 in war bond sales at a match run off during a 12-below cold spell. Most of the dough came from an auction at which one of the pins went for $50,000 . . . The "Army Times" service newspaper, is printing a form that baseball players in the forces can use to apply for pro jobs when they're discharged . . . We thought the scouts were waiting at the door.

Erie, Pa., March 11 (AP)—Farrell high won titles in five weight classes last night to dominate the district 10 wrestling championship play. Erie academy took three titles, Erie Strong Vincent, two, and Greenville high, one. Winners qualified for the PIAA finals at State college March 17 and 18.

SCRANTON FIVE WHIPS DELONE QUINTET 41-29

(Special to The Gettysburg Times)

Scranton, March 11—Unable to stop the sharp shooting of Henry Kolojeski and Al Rose, Delone high bowed out of the state Catholic tournament last night by falling before St. Mary's high of Scranton, 41-29, before a capacity audience at South Scranton Junior high school.

The visiting squirrels ran into considerable trouble on the big court and trailed every minute of the way. They were playing all over the floor by the champions of the Scranton diocese and had few free shots at the baskets.

Kolojeski, the game's outstanding player, started things off in the opening minute with a field goal and the Scranton team was in front to stay. Rose, who costarred with Kolojeski, dropped in another before Delone finally came through on a basket by Henry Noel, three minutes after the game started.

St. Mary's Sets Pace
The Delone tally was the signal for Kolojeski to go on a one-man spree and he dropped in two field goals and a foul to run the score up to 9-2 before Delone registered again on a foul by Bernard Funk.

The game, with Kolojeski and Rose contributing, put the tally up to 12-3 before Captain Johnny Folmer tossed in a twin pointer just before the period ended.

The second period was a repetition of the first as the Scrantonians continued to add to their lead. Once in the quarter the Squirrels failed to cut the gap to 10-10 only to have the winners quickly assume charge and run up a 26-12 lead by the end of the first half.

In the closing periods the visitors did their best work but try as they did, they failed to make any serious threats. They outscored the Scrantonians by a single point in each session.

Scranton Stalls
The count was 36-23 at the end of the third. In the Fourth St. Mary's took a 41-24 lead before they decided to "kill" the ball. The Squirrels broke through in the closing minutes to toss in five points before time ran out, Jerry Lawrence throwing in the final two baskets of the game.

Kolojeski and Rose scored 30 points between them to outscore the entire Delone team by a single point. Kolojeski accounted for 16 while Rose tossed in 14. Each player tallied 10 counters in the first half.

Rose, a 15 year old sophomore, played with a sprained ankle that forced him to limp noticeably. He retired to the bench at the start of the fourth.

The victory gave St. Mary's the right to oppose Southeast Catholic of Philadelphia for the eastern championship next Tuesday night at Philadelphia's Convention Hall. The Philadelphia team advanced last night with a 51-33 victory over Allentown Catholics.

Included among the spectators was the Right Rev. William J. Hefey, bishop of the Scranton Diocese.

McCluskey To Run In New York Event

New York, March 11 (AP)—He's slightly bald and three years ago they picked him up for dead in the midst of a race on the University of Pennsylvania track but Lt. Joe McCluskey of Uncle Sam's Navy will shuffle 22 times around the pine saucer in Madison Square again tonight.

It will be the fourteenth time that McCluskey, who needs only six more trophies to make an even 100, has started in the Knights of Columbus two-mile run during the past 15 years. He was absent last year because of Naval duties.

Now stationed at Siena College in upstate New York, McCluskey is coming down for the race and no matter how he fares with Ensign Ollie Hunter, Jim Rafferty, Clayton Parrar and other youngsters he will receive plenty of applause from the 17,000 spectators.

Yanks Will Start Drills On Monday

Atlantic City, N. J., March 11 (AP)—Sixty members of the New York Yankees baseball club are expected to set up headquarters tomorrow in the Senator hotel and start spring training early Monday.

The State armory will be the scene of indoor drills during inclement weather, and Bader Field will see the world champions in action on fair days.

During a series of exhibition games, Bader Field will see the Yanks pitted against the Philadelphia Nationals on April 1; Brooklyn Dodgers, April 2 and 3; Philadelphia Athletics on April 7 and 8; New York Giants on April 9 (Easter Sunday) and 10; and the Boston Braves on April 11.

An Evening Thought
The gratitude of most men is but a secret desire of receiving greater benefits.—La Rochefoucauld.

Just Folks

SOLDIER-WISH
If we at some grim task were kept,
As they on land or sea,
What dreams would find us where we slept?
What would our longings be?

I fancy none of us would care
To find the world made o'er,
But we should all be wishing there
'Twould be as 'twas before.

And coming home we'd hope to find
The little street the same,
The eyes of all we'd left behind
With the old light aflame;

The friends, the school, the drug-store gay,
The mother's garden small,
Our rooms, as when we went away,
We'd want to see them all.

Well, not for glories strange or new
At battle posts they stay,
But for the simple joys they knew
It seems—just yesterday.

Today's Talk

VICTORY BORN
There was a single entry of but one line in Emerson's journal for April 6th, 1842. It read: "I am defeated all the time: yet to Victory I am born."

Apparently Emerson must have given a great deal of thought to this line before he wrote it down. Perhaps it hung from the front window of his mind all day long, and then impressed him so deeply that he felt he had written enough in that journal for one day!

But just take this idea and test it out in Nature and as applied to human life. The seed, planted in the ground, is Victory born—because it was created in the first place to give life to another of its kind. And how determined is every seed, plant, tree, to overcome defeat in itself and become Victory born into its full fruition.

Were it not a fact that we are all, in a sense, defeated all the time, there would not be such a natural incentive to demonstrate before all the world that we are actually born to be victorious—as undoubtedly we are.

In the plant, animal, and human world, the greatest contest enacted is that for life itself—to be victorious at least in one's own mind, and to fight to the last ditch to demonstrate the fact.

To believe this to be something born with us at birth, is to be self-nourished in hope, faith, and courage through life. It is this self-knowledge that inspires us forward, breathing and overcoming defeats along the way, and coming up stronger for each succeeding contest, for mastery over ourselves and the elements in life that oppose us.

There are those who seem to carry the spirit of Victory around with them, showing it in their very faces, and proving it in their words and acts. Don Marquis gave voice to this fact when he said in a poem that he was "full of New Beginnings."

Indeed to Victory were we all born! There is no other way to figure it out.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Is your driving improving or are your friends just getting used to it?

If the engine of your car has developed a knock that slightly suggests a worn piston pin don't be too ready to jump to conclusions. There's a good chance that the trouble is entirely due to formations of carbon on the cylinder walls and on the upper ring lands of the pistons. Such carbon forms a ridge around the cylinder and allows carbon to build up on the piston lands. When the carbon formations of the two come together there is an audible knock. It will all come out in the cleaning.

Handicapped The Heater
Usually when a car's hot water heater doesn't do a good job either there isn't enough water in the system or there is something wrong with the heater's circulation. But K. B. who reads this column found something a bit different. He believes that the facts, briefly told, might be of some help to others who are similarly puzzled.

Investigation revealed that there was a cracked cylinder head gasket which allowed oil and combustion gases to get into the cooling system. This led to frothing of the emulsified oil, and resulted in poor circulation. Because of the peculiar nature of the leak water did not leak into the engine when the latter was idle.

When motorists think of lubrication somehow or other the mental picture is that familiar view of the car up on grease lift getting the usual dollar lube job. It's no wonder the 5000-mile greasing is so systematically ignored by those who do not leave the work to their service man. In this 5000-mile work wheel bearings are important. Then there is the matter of greasing the steering gear. Likely to be overlooked is the water pump, the distributor and the speedometer cable.

Has It Been Warped?
Many a motor that is torn down these days reveals the fact that its block or its head is warped. Naturally this makes good sealing at the gasket very difficult, and, if the block is warped, valves are apt to seat poorly. But these conditions can be remedied.

Head or block can be machined off so as to be in a true plane with each other. Then the valve seats can be recut. After any such machining, however it is important to use an extra gasket to compensate for the stock that has been removed. Unless this is done there will be a rise in compression and a tendency toward sharper "pinging."

"We have become so accustomed to thinking of automobiles as being the last word in novelty it is easy to understand why so many owners are overlooking the old stories in service. Right now many a problem could be solved merely by unearthing some old diagnosis that too many people imagine has gone by the boards."

"I'm thinking of such conditions as a leaky carburetor float. And another is a clogged strainer in the gas lines. We hear a lot these days about ignition trouble from a cracked distributor head but a common distributor condition is a dirty cap that holds moisture and thus encourages external shorting."

"The old troubles are back again in style. Don't ignore them."

Is Your Car Ready?

Due to fuel rationing majority of cars in the States and Canada are in no position to make an emergency trip even if ration authorities sanction it. This is because short runs and limited use of car encourage the sort of troubles that do not show up until the car is put to hard service. That is why I strongly urge every reader to run up a long steep hill whenever one presents this opportunity. It will be a little gas well invested in a test that will quickly show up any need for adjustments or more extensive service. It is the strain of wide open throttle on a hill that brings everything into sharper focus.

I may have mentioned it before, but the fact bears repeating that shock absorbers now are on a trade-in basis the same as starter drives, generators and fuel pumps. It will save labor to turn in a troublesome shock absorber for a factory rebuilt one, and the net results will be more satisfactory all around. It is now estimated that there are about 65,000,000 shock absorbers of just one make on American cars. Efficient shock absorber action is not merely a matter of comfort but more of peace of mind, since without good control a car is likely to break a spring, develop shimmy, wear its tires prematurely or acquire other serious ailments.

One Or The Other

Leakage at the oil gauge is likely to suggest a defective gauge or a loose connection. One reader who suspected this replaced the gauge and was surprised to find that the new one leaked just as badly. Having eliminated these simpler possible causes of the trouble he wisely concluded that oil was building up the excessive pressure within the engine itself, due to clogged lines. Blowing out the lines stopped the leakage pronto.

When adding water to the cooling system it is well to have the engine running. This eliminates risk of cracking the head or block should the water level be low and the engine hotter than you figured. After over-heating from lack of water always wait fifteen minutes or so before taking off the cap and adding water. Mufflers rot out externally as well as internally, so avoid splashing through puddles when this isn't necessary. Where roads are treated with calcium chloride be sure to have the underside of the car washed occasionally.

If the fan belt is adjusted about right you will be able to push the belt three quarters of an inch out of position about half way between the generator and fan pulleys.

Just Make Them Simpler

Those who dream of the future automobile for postwar consumption are being reminded by the more practical among us that a car divested of many of the "bugs" of pre-war production, would be quite welcome. One engine that is on the road in civilian hands as well as in service for the Allies has no provision for main bearing wear. To replace these bearings the engine must be removed from the frame and the crankshaft taken out of the engine.

Removal of an oil pump on another prewar job calls for removal of exhaust pipe, oil gauge line, starter pedal, fuel pump and radiator hose. In addition you have to drain the cooling system, remove the floor boards and loosen the engine's mountings.

The literature on this car was very intriguing. I wish I could quote you a few lines from it.

They Want To Know

Q. The engine of my car spins freely during cranking but does not start easily. What do you think is wrong? H. N. B.

A. Probably the engine is in bad condition. Such free cranking indicates low compression which, in turn, suggests worn rings and poor seating valves. If you cannot afford to give up the car for a major motor job right now at least check over the ignition carefully and use some gum solvents and valve oils to get better ring and valve action.

Q. Recently I had a new ring gear installed on the flywheel of my car but since this job I have had a lot of difficulty shifting gear. The particular trouble is that I get a lot of clashing when trying to shift to low or reverse. Puzzle is that I see no connection between the flywheel job and gear shifting. E. E. W.

A. Don't blame you, yet it is simple enough. The clutch is dragging. It was necessary to disassemble the clutch in order to remove the flywheel. The clutch part of the job will need to be rechecked.

Q. I should like to check the oil pressure on my car. In doing this is it necessary to consider the speed of the engine? N. M. J.

A. Instruction books and service manuals give desired pressures for various cars at engine speeds corresponding to certain car speeds. These vary for different makes and models. An important point, however, is to check when the engine is warm.

Q. I note that the cylinder head of my car is aluminum. In doing a carbon job should the head nuts be drawn down again after the engine has been well heated up? I always followed this practice with cast iron heads on former cars. K. L. Mc.

A. An aluminum head always should be tightened when cold.

REPAIRING AND RECAPPING

According to United States

Government Standards

The National Bureau of Standards has set up very definite rules and procedures for repairing and recapping of tires. These commercial standards have been developed over many months with the assistance of those who were fully experienced. If adhered to, you will benefit by more mileage, safer driving and lower cost per mile.

Our Tire Repairing and Recapping

Conforms to These Standards

We have pledged to adhere to these commercial standards on repairing and recapping. This is a double guarantee to you—one by the United States Government—and one by us. Every recommendation of the National Bureau of Standards is carefully followed, from the inspection of the tire right through to the completed job. We know that each step is proper. We not only endorse the methods—we do them!

A Government Request With Which YOU Can Comply

Various government agencies, interested in maintaining motor transportation have made several sane and important suggestions to motorists. Follow them. Drive slow. Don't start or stop too fast. Don't run over curbs. Criss-cross your tires. Check air inflation. Make repairs promptly. When the tread is worn, recap at once. Heed the advice of your tire serviceman. Not much to ask to be certain that your car continues in operation.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Is your driving improving or are your friends just getting used to it?

If the engine of your car has developed a knock that slightly suggests a worn piston pin don't be too ready to jump to conclusions. There's a good chance that the trouble is entirely due to formations of carbon on the cylinder walls and on the upper ring lands of the pistons. Such carbon forms a ridge around the cylinder and allows carbon to build up on the piston lands. When the carbon formations of the two come together there is an audible knock. It will all come out in the cleaning.

Handicapped The Heater
Usually when a car's hot water heater doesn't do a good job either there isn't enough water in the system or there is something wrong with the heater's circulation. But K. B. who reads this column found things a bit different. He believes that the facts, briefly told, might be of some help to others who are similarly puzzled.

Investigation revealed that there was a cracked cylinder head gasket which allowed oil and combustion gases to get into the cooling system. This led to frothing of the emulsified oil, and resulted in poor circulation. Because of the peculiar nature of the leak water did not leak into the engine when the latter was idle.

When motorists think of lubrication somehow or other the mental picture is that familiar view of the car up on grease lift getting the usual dollar lube job. It's no wonder the 5000-mile greasing is so systematically ignored by those who do not leave the work to their service men. In this 5000-mile work wheel bearings are important. Then there is the matter of greasing the steering gear. Likely to be overlooked is the water pump, the distributor and the speedometer cable.

Has It Been Warped?
Many a motor that is torn down these days reveals the fact that its block or its head is warped. Naturally this makes good sealing at the gasket very difficult; and, if the block is warped, valves are apt to seat poorly. But these conditions can be remedied.

Head or block can be machined off so as to be in a true plane with each other. Then the valve seats can be recut. After any such machining, however, it is important to use an extra gasket to compensate for the stock that has been removed. Unless this is done there will be a rise in compression and a tendency toward sharper "pinging."

"We have become so accustomed to thinking of automobiles as being the last word in novelty it is easy to understand why so many owners are overlooking the old stories in service. Right now many a problem could be solved merely by unearthing some old diagnosis that too many people imagine has gone by the boards."

"I'm thinking of such conditions as a leaky carburetor float. And another is a clogged strainer in the gas lines. We hear a lot these days about ignition trouble from a cracked distributor head but a common distributor condition is a dirty cap that holds moisture and thus encourages external shorting."

"The old troubles are back again in style. Don't ignore them."

Is Your Car Ready?
Due to fuel rationing majority of cars in the States and Canada are in no position to make an emergency trip even if ration authorities sanction it. This is because short runs and limited use of car encourage the sort of troubles that do not show up until the car is put to hard service. That is why I strongly urge every reader to run up a long steep hill whenever one presents this opportunity. It will be a little gas well invested in a test that will quickly show up any need for adjustments or more extensive service. It is the strain of wide open throttle on a hill that brings everything into sharper focus.

I may have mentioned it before, but the fact bears repeating that shock absorbers now are on a trade-in basis the same as starter drives, generators and fuel pumps. It will save labor to turn in a troublesome shock absorber for a factory rebuilt

Efficient shock absorber action is not merely a matter of comfort but more of peace of mind, since without good control a car is likely to break a spring, develop shimmy, wear its tires prematurely or acquire other serious ailments.

One Or The Other
Leakage at the oil gauge is likely to suggest a defective gauge or a loose connection. One reader who suspected this replaced the gauge and was surprised to find that the new one leaked just as badly. Having eliminated these simpler possible causes of the trouble he wisely concluded that oil was building up the excessive pressure within the engine itself, due to clogged lines. Blowing out the lines stopped the leakage pronto.

When adding water to the cooling system it is well to have the engine running. This eliminates risk of cracking the head or block should the water level be low and the engine hotter than you figured. After overheating from lack of water always wait fifteen minutes or so before taking off the cap and adding water.

Mufflers rot out externally as well as internally, so avoid splashing through puddles when this isn't necessary. Where roads are treated with calcium chloride be sure to have the underside of the car washed occasionally.

If the fan belt is adjusted about right you will be able to push the belt three quarters of an inch out of position about half way between the generator and fan pulleys.

Q. Recently I had a new ring gear installed on the flywheel of my car but since this job I have had a lot of difficulty shifting gear. The particular trouble is that I get a lot of clashing when trying to shift to low or reverse. Puzzle is that I see no connection between the flywheel job and gear shifting. E. E. W.

A. Don't blame you, yet it is similar enough. The clutch is dragging. It was necessary to disassemble the clutch in order to remove the flywheel. The clutch part of the job will need to be rechecked.

Q. I should like to check the oil pressure on my car. In doing this it is necessary to consider the speed of the engine? N. M. J.

A. Instruction books and service manuals give desired pressures for various cars at engine speeds corresponding to certain car speeds. These vary for different makes and models. An important point, however, is to check when the engine is warm.

Q. I note that the cylinder head of my car is aluminum. In doing a carbon job should the head nuts be drawn down again after the engine has been well heated up? I always followed this practice with cast iron heads on former cars. K. L. Mc.

A. An aluminum head always should be tightened when cold.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply.

Repairing and Recapping
According to United States
Government Standards

The National Bureau of Standards has set up very definite rules and procedures for repairing and recapping of tires. These commercial standards have been developed over many months with the assistance of those who were fully experienced. If adhered to, you will benefit by more mileage, safer driving and lower cost per mile.

Our Tire Repairing and Recapping Conforms to These Standards

We have pledged to adhere to these commercial standards on repairing and recapping. This is a double guarantee to you—one by the United States Government—and one by us. Every recommendation of the National Bureau of Standards is carefully followed, from the inspection of the tire right through to the completed job. We know that each step is proper. We not only endorse the methods—we do them!

A Government Request With Which YOU Can Comply

Various government agencies, interested in maintaining motor transportation have made several sane and important suggestions to motorists. Follow them. Drive slow. Don't start or stop too fast. Don't run over curbs. Criss-cross your tires. Check air inflation. Make repairs promptly. When the tread is worn, recap at once. Heed the advice of your tire serviceman. Not much to ask to be certain that your car continues in operation.

STATE DEMANDS

(Continued From Page 1) participation as being the ratio which would probably encourage the maximum amount of highway construction in the nation. It should make the states recognize their financial responsibilities and not expect the federal government to finance a disproportionate share of monumental construction.

Largest Road System Present federal aid formula distributes funds to states on the basis of one-third population, one-third area and one-third post (mail) road mileage while the legislation before Congress would change this to one-half population, one-fourth area and one-fourth post road.

Shroyer said that "under no condition can Pennsylvania endorse" the proposed plan, declaring "population percentage deserves greater merit and must be given greater weight." He urged one-half the available money be allotted on the old 1-3-1-3 basis and one-half on population to boost Pennsylvania's share, pointing out the state has 10,000,000 inhabitants or seven and a half per cent of those in the nation and a highway system of 40,600 miles, largest in the country.

"Population and motor car and truck ownership march forward hand in hand," asserted the secretary. "Large numbers of cars and trucks require new highways and modernization of existing facilities to accommodate them. Therefore, the highway needs are greater and more insistent in the heavier population areas."

Shroyer said Pennsylvania feels that the responsibility for preparing surveys and plans for highway work should be assumed by the states. He added that lack of personnel had delayed such plans and "congress could aid this situation to a much greater degree (than allotting funds for the work) by requesting the army and navy to release engineering personnel well in advance of actual demobilization of combat and similar units."

Asks Flexible Date The secretary declared Pennsylvania can finance its own right-of-way costs "but the bill should be so worded as to make this feature optional with the state as to whether the federal government should participate, with each project standing on its own merits."

A provision in legislation setting forth the effective date that work may commence, added Shroyer, should be so flexible that construction could start at any time when materials, equipment and labor are available.

The official questioned whether public funds should be spent for parking facilities in urban communities but recognized inadequacy of such facilities, asserting:

Not a Subsidy "We can utilize every available dollar for actual highway construction, reconstruction and modernization without entering new fields of enterprise such as state-owned and operated parking facilities at the present time."

While approving in general the federal aid principal of state highway construction, Shroyer declared "Pennsylvania does not look upon this sum as a direct appropriation or subsidy to the states but as a return of the proceeds of specific taxation upon the motorists of the nation to be utilized in the interest of these same motorists for highway development."

There are 500,000 miles of designated highways in the U. S.

COURT OKAYS KO

Omaha, Neb. (AP)—Municipal Judge Perry Wheeler complimented a 15-year-old girl for hitting her former stepfather over the head with a rolling pin.

"For years I've been recommending this old-fashioned treatment for drunken men who abused their families," Judge Wheeler told the girl. "You're the first one who's taken my advice."

Dogs offered to the Army must pass a physical test and they frequently are turned down for defective teeth, eyes or ears.

If You Can't See the Tread—See Us!

When your tire has the first sign of a smooth appearance, when the tread has worn off—that is the time to see us for recapping service. Every mile you drive beyond that point endangers the life of that tire. As the casing rubber wears off you get near the cord fabric, which means that continued driving could very likely ruin it altogether so it could not be recapped. Further, it heightens the possibility of a blow-out.

Just A Little Care Will Save Your Tire

All you have to do is use normal care. Drive within today's speed limits. Don't make jump starts or stop too suddenly. Don't bump over curves. Check wheel alignment. Have tires inspected regularly. Maintain proper air inflation. Occasionally change wheels from front to rear. The rear right tire wears out faster than the others. Best of all, look to us for tire guidance. We'll keep you rolling!

Every Turn of the Wheel Means That Much Added Wear

Repair and Recap Now!

A small stone bruise or cut may not seem very important to you. But every time your wheel turns you aggravate it that much more. Tires flex when your car runs. That is a constant expanding and contracting. A minor repair may save your tire, and possibly your life. Let us attend to it promptly when it is time to recap. Don't wait—do it then.

Don't Gamble on New Tires—They Will Be Very Scarce

The more people who become eligible for new tires the less chance you have. New tire production will be far less than the original 30,000,000 estimate, and that was only slightly more than one tire for every passenger car. Actually, LESS than one tire per car will be made this year. That leaves at least three tires to depend on the best of service promptly—efficiently—carefully. Heed our good and sincere advice and you'll drive through the emergency.

STATE DEMANDS

participation as being the ratio which would probably encourage the maximum amount of highway construction in the nation. It should make the states recognize their financial responsibilities and not expect the federal government to finance a disproportionate share of monumental construction.

Largest Road System

Present federal aid formula distributes funds to states on the basis of one-third population, one-third areas and one-third post (mail) road mileage while the legislation before Congress would change this to one-half population, one-fourth area and one-fourth post road.

Shroyer said that "under no condition can Pennsylvania endorse" the proposed plan, declaring "population percentage deserves greater merit and must be given greater weight."

He urged one-half the available money be allotted on the old 1-3 1-3 1-3 basis and one-half on population to boost Pennsylvania's share, pointing out the state has 10,000,000 inhabitants or seven and a half per cent of those in the nation and a highway system of 49,600 miles, largest in the country.

"Population and motor car and truck ownership march forward hand in hand," asserted the secretary. "Large numbers of cars and trucks require new highways and modernization of existing facilities to accommodate them. Therefore, the highway needs are greater and more insistent in the heavier population areas."

Shroyer said Pennsylvania feels that the responsibility for preparing surveys and plans for highway work should be assumed by the states. He added that lack of personnel had delayed such plans and "congress could aid this situation to a much greater degree (than allotting funds for the work) by requesting the army and navy to release engineering personnel well in advance of actual demobilization of combat and similar units."

Asks Flexible Date

The secretary declared Pennsylvania can finance its own right-of-way costs "but the bill should be so worded as to make this feature optional with the state as to whether the Federal government should participate, with each project standing on its own merits."

A provision in legislation setting forth the effective date that work may commence, added Shroyer, should be so flexible that construction could start at any time when materials, equipment and labor are available.

The official questioned whether public funds should be spent for parking facilities in urban communities but recognized inadequacy of such facilities, asserting:

Not a Subsidy

"We can utilize every available dollar for actual highway construction, reconstruction and modernization without entering new fields of enterprise such as state-owned and operated parking facilities at the present time."

While approving in general the federal aid principal of state highway construction, Shroyer declared "Pennsylvania does not look upon this sum as a direct appropriation or subsidy to the states but as a return of the proceeds of specific taxation upon the motorists of the nation to be utilized in the interest of these same motorists for highway development."

There are 500,000 miles of designated highways in the U. S.

COURT OKAYS KO

Omaha, Neb. (AP)—Municipal Judge Perry Wheeler complied a 15-year-old girl for hitting her former stepfather over the head with a rolling pin.

"For years I've been recommending this old-fashioned treatment for drunken men who abused their families," Judge Wheeler told the girl. "You're the first one who's taken my advice."

Dogs offered to the Army must pass a physical test and they frequently are turned down for defective teeth, eyes or ears.

If You Can't See the Tread—See Us!

When your tire has the first sign of a smooth appearance, when the tread has worn off—that is the time to see us for recapping service. Every mile you drive beyond that point endangers the life of that tire. As the casing rubber wears off you get near the cord fabric, which means that continued driving could very likely ruin it altogether so it could not be recapped. Further, it heightens the possibility of a blow-out.

Just A Little Care Will Save Your Tire

All you have to do is use normal care. Drive within today's speed limits. Don't make jump starts or stop too suddenly. Don't bump over curves. Check wheel alignment. Have tires inspected regularly. Maintain proper air inflation. Occasionally change wheels from front to rear. The rear right tire wears out faster than the others. Best of all, look to us for tire guidance. We'll keep you rolling!

Every Turn of the Wheel Means That Much Added Wear

Repair and Recap Now!

A small stone bruise or cut may not seem very important to you. But every time your wheel turns you aggravate it that much more. Tires flex when your car runs. That is a constant expanding and contracting. A minor repair may save your tire, and possibly your life. Let us attend to it promptly when it is time to recap. Don't wait—do it then.

Don't Gamble on New Tires—They Will Be Very Scarce

The more people who become eligible for new tires the less chance you have. New tire production will be far less than the original 30,000,000 estimate, and that was only slightly more than one tire for every passenger car. Actually, LESS than one tire per car will be made this year. That leaves at least three tires to depend on the best of service promptly—efficiently—carefully. Heed our good and sincere advice and you'll drive through the emergency.

Wednesday and Thursday

"YOUNG IDEAS" Susan Peters Herbert Marshall

Friday and Saturday

"IN OUR TIME" Ida Lupino Paul Henreid

STRAND THEATER Saturday

"LONE STAR TRAIL" Johnny Mack Brown Tex Ritter

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Red Skelton portrays one of his funnier roles in "Whistling in Brooklyn," which will play at the Majestic theater Monday and Tuesday. In his newest hit he gets "The Fox," a radio crime-buster, in and out of all kinds of trouble. In the supporting cast are Ann Rutherford, Jean Rogers, Eags Ragland, Ray Collins, Henry O'Neill, William Frawley, Sam Levene and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Gays days in college and comical results of youthful intrigue in the halls of learning provide laughs galore in "Young Ideas," M-G-M's romance of youth with Susan Peters, Herbert Marshall, Mary Astor and Richard Carlson coming Wednesday to the Majestic theater.

Miss Peters and Elliott Reid play the children of Miss Astor, who essays the role of a novelist married a second time. Marshall, the second husband, is seen as a staid chemistry professor. They plot to wreck the marriage with various complications resulting, and even inveigle the unpretentious professor into a jitterbug contest at a night club.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Ida Lupino who plays the top feminine role in "In Our Time."

Ida Lupino and Paul Henreid are co-starred in "In Our Time," which appears at the Majestic theater Friday and Saturday. Miss Lupino is cast as a Polish count. After their marriage the current war breaks out and Henreid is wounded while fighting. In the supporting cast are Nancy Coleman, Mary Boland and Victor Francen.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Sale of Seals Brings $1,151: Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, chairman of the Adams County Christmas seal committee, has announced that the sale of Christmas seals in Gettysburg and Adams county totaled $1,151.15, the largest amount ever contributed to the tuberculosis movement in this county since its inception fifteen years ago.

The smallest amount ever raised here was in 1921 when $310 was contributed.

To Visit Sister in California: Lawrence Sheads, of Mummaburg, formerly of Gettysburg, left Wednesday at midnight to visit his sister, Mrs. Mary J. Page, Oakland, California. He is making the trip by bus.

Mr. Sheads has been a foreman at the Eagle silk mill here for 14 years. He also has worked as a battlefield guide.

Colored Couple Weds: Miss Ruth M. Washington, and William F. Mosley, both colored, of Gettysburg, were married Sunday, by the Rev. James H. McMullen, of Gettysburg.

Local Woman Is Home from Tour: Miss Bess E. Shriver, East Middle street, has returned from a 23-day tour visiting Florida, Texas and Mexico. The party traveled in a special pullman car.

Seminary and College Grad U. S. Chaplain: The appointment of the Rev. Luther W. Evans, pastor of Calvary Lutheran church, West Chester, and graduate of Gettysburg college and the Lutheran theological seminary, as a chaplain in the United States Army was announced here by Mr. Evans.

The Rev. and Mrs. Evans and their two sons are visiting Mrs. Evans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Lady, Springs avenue.

Chaplain Evans will report for duty at Edgewood arsenal and Fort Hoyle, Maryland.

Himes-Miller Nuptials Solemnized: A wedding of wide interest was solemnized Saturday evening at 6 o'clock when Miss Catherine W. Himes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Himes, became the bride of Max B. Miller, Jr., of New York city, in a colorful ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents in New York.

The Rev. Harry Hersh Beidleman, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Hanover, performed the ceremony in the presence of more than sixty relatives.

Y. W. C. A. Drive Nets $741.65: Incomplete returns for 1934 announced today by Mrs. Leroy Winebrenner total $741.65.

The quota for Gettysburg and Adams county has been fixed at $1,800.

Will Repair Farm Buildings on Field: Working with $7,000, supplied by the public works' administration, James R. McConaghe, superintendent of the Gettysburg national military park, is having all farm buildings built on the battlefield since the civil war repaired.

The PWA appropriation is for materials, supplies and labor.

Local Frat Is 78 Years Old: Pennsylvania Delta, the Gettysburg chapter of Sigma Alpha Upsilon, observed the seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the national fraternity by formally initiating six pledges at the chapter house Saturday afternoon.

A women's club was formed at the chapter house Saturday evening and the following officers elected: Mrs. H. C. Hoffman, Somerset, president; Mrs. Lewis C. Manges, Harrisburg, vice president; Mrs. Charles W. Beachem, Gettysburg, secretary and Mrs. S. Huber Heintzelman, Gettysburg, treasurer.

$20,000 Mysterious Fire Wipes Out Big Barn, Much Machinery: Another disastrous farm barn conflagration Thursday morning at three o'clock, the fifth within the past two months, has convinced county and state fire marshals that a "fire bug" is operating in Adams county and a concerted effort will be made to apprehend the culprit.

Fire of a most mysterious origin destroyed the large barn, and packing plant on the Heller brothers fruit farm near Aspers, and caused damage estimated to be in excess of $20,000.

Borough Will Lease Airport on Oak Ridge: Gettysburg will have a municipally-owned but privately-operated airport within a short time.

By action taken at the March meeting of council, the Gettysburg airport on Oak Ridge, owned by D. J. Forney, will be leased by the borough and then released to Mr. Forney for five years and upward.

Council will make application for a grant from the civil works' administration to improve the landing field.

Mrs. Henry Scharf, Hotel Gettysburg, arrived Friday from Harrisburg, where she spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Strouse.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

By Robert Geiger

Part 12

All the secret weapons of 1943 didn't come from the war laboratories; Victory Gardeners invented a few and they had to do with such things as cold frames and hotbeds.

These are devices for getting the Victory Garden away to an early start, the sooner to place fresh vegetables on your plate.

In many cities such plants as tomatoes and cabbages that have to be started in sheltered places in early spring, are so cheap and so easy to get from seed stores and greenhouses that most home gardeners don't bother about raising their own.

But hotbeds and cold frames also serve to make many other vegetables, such as radishes and lettuce, available much earlier than they would be if planted in the garden after danger of frost is past.

A hotbed is a small garden, under glass, that relies upon artificial heat to give it a quick start. Fresh horse manure usually is placed in a pit 18 inches deep. Then a frame to support the holed sash is placed over the manure, around the sides of the pit. The holed sash comes in size 3 by 6 feet. After the frame is in position the manure should be covered with four inches of good garden soil. Wait for about four days until the temperature falls to 80 degrees or lower, and then plant your seeds.

A cold frame is similar to a hotbed except that it relies upon the heat of the sun, and not artificial heating. It is constructed in the same way but must be in the sunniest location possible, with shelter on the north.

Two Chicago executives who had no space available in their apartment yards built a novel hotbed on the top of the garage, under their second story window. They attached a rope-and-pulley system to the glass doors of the hotbed so that they could be operated from the second story windows. When it turned cold, unexpectedly, all they had to do was reach out the window and manipulate the ropes, saving their crop from frost. At their offices in the loop they kept a careful watch on the thermometer and when the weather turned threatening they merely called their wives or a neighbor and had them close the hotbed glass.

Another ingenious householder who wanted an early crop, constructed a hotbed outside his cellar window and extended a water coil to it from his hot water heater. A small fire in the heater keeps the soil at an ideal temperature and his garden thrived like a tropical one.

Boxes also may be placed in south windows with good results. A "wick-box" can be made at home or purchased ready-made in seed stores.

It is about two feet square, four to six inches deep. In the center of the bottom a hole is bored, about two inches wide.

A heavy wick is placed through the hole and dangles about six inches below the box.

The flat is filled with soil and the seeds are planted. Then the whole box is dipped in water, drained, and placed in a dark place until the seeds germinate.

The box then is placed in a sunny window, on legs about six inches high. Under the box is placed a pan of water in which the wick is set.

If the pan is kept filled with water and if the box is kept in a sunny and humid place, the soil remains at an ideal stage of dampness.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Sale of Seals Brings $1,151: Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, chairman of the Adams County Christmas seal committee, has announced that the sale of Christmas seals in Gettysburg and Adams county totaled $1,151.15, the largest amount ever contributed to the tuberculosis movement in this county since its inception fifteen years ago.

The smallest amount ever raised here was in 1921 when $310 was contributed.

To Visit Sister in California:
Lawrence Sheads, of Mummaburg, formerly of Gettysburg, left Wednesday at midnight to visit his sister, Mrs. Mary J. Page, Oakland, California. He is making the trip by bus.

Mr. Sheads has been a foreman at the Eagle silk mill here for 14 years. He also has worked as a battlefield guide.

Colored Couple Weds: Miss Ruth M. Washington, and William F. Mosley, both colored, of Gettysburg, were married, Sunday, by the Rev. James H. McMullen, of Gettysburg.

Local Woman Is Home from Tour:
Miss Bess E. Shriver, East Middle street, has returned from a 23-day tour visiting Florida, Texas and Mexico. The party traveled in a special pullman car.

Seminary and College Grad U. S. Chaplain: The appointment of the Rev. Luther W. Evans, pastor of Calvary Lutheran church, West Chester, and graduate of Gettysburg college and the Lutheran theological seminary, as a chaplain in the United States Army was announced here by Mr. Evans.

The Rev. and Mrs. Evans and their two sons are visiting Mrs. Evans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Lady, Springs avenue.

Chaplain Evans will report for duty at Edgewood arsenal and Fort Hoyle, Maryland.

Himes-Miller Nuptials Solemnized:
A wedding of wide interest was solemnized Saturday evening at 6 o'clock when Miss Catherine W. Himes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Himes, became the bride of Max B. Miller, Jr., of New York city, in a colorful ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents in New Oxford.

The Rev. Harry Hursh Beideman, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Hanover, performed the ceremony in the presence of more than sixty relatives.

Y. W. C. A. Drive Nets $741.65:
Incomplete returns for 1934 announced today by Mrs. Leroy Winebrenner total $741.65.

The quota for Gettysburg and Adams county has been fixed at $1,800.

Will Repair Farm Buildings on Field: Working with $7,000, supplied by the public works' administration, James R. McConaghie, superintendent of the Gettysburg national military park, is having all farm buildings built on the battlefield since the civil war repaired.

The PWA appropriation is for materials, supplies and labor.

Local Frat Is 78 Years Old: Pennsylvania Delta, the Gettysburg chapter of Sigma Alpha Upsilon, observed the seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the national fraternity by formally initiating six pledges at the chapter house Saturday afternoon.

A women's club was formed at the chapter house Saturday evening and the following officers elected: Mrs. H. C. Hoffman, Somerset, president; Mrs. Lewis C. Manges, Harrisburg, vice president; Mrs. Charles W. Beachem, Gettysburg, secretary and Mrs. S. Huber Heintzelman, Gettysburg, treasurer.

$20,000 Mysterious Fire Wipes Out Big Barn, Much Machinery:
Another disastrous farm barn conflagration Thursday morning at three o'clock, the fifth within the past two months, has convinced county and state fire marshals that a "fire bug" is operating in Adams county and a concerted effort will be made to apprehend the culprit.

Fire of a most mysterious origin destroyed the large barn, and packing plant on the Heller brothers fruit farm near Aspers, and caused damage estimated to be in excess of $20,000.

Borough Will Lease Airport on Oak Ridge: Gettysburg will have a municipally-owned but privately-operated airport within a short time.

By action taken at the March meeting of council, the Gettysburg airport on Oak Ridge, owned by D. J. Forney, will be leased by the borough and then released to Mr. Forney for five years and upward.

Council will make application for a grant from the civil works' administration to improve the landing field.

Then a frame to support the hotbed sash is placed over the manure, around the sides of the pit. The hotbed sash comes in size 3 by 6 feet. After the frame is in position the manure should be covered with four inches of good garden soil. Wait for about four days until the temperature falls to 80 degrees or lower, and then plant your seeds.

A cold frame is similar to a hotbed except that it relies upon the heat of the sun, and not artificial heating. It is constructed in the same way but must be in the sunniest location possible, with shelter on the north.

The box then is placed in a sunny window, on legs about six inches high. Under the box is placed a pan of water in which the wick is set.

If the pan is kept filled with water and if the box is kept in a sunny and humid place, the soil remains at an ideal stage of dampness.
